Carter travels to White House today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter, getting a look at his new home on his first post-election visit to Washington, met with a parade of high-level administration officials today before an afternoon session with President Ford at the White House.

James Lynn, who is Ford's director of the Office of Managment and Budget, began the parade shortly before 9 a.m. EDT. He went to Blair House to meet with Carter, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House and the Old Executive Office Building complex.

As he left, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld walked in. Both men were preceded by the vice president-elect.

Asked what he and Carter talked about, Lynn said: "Believe it or not, we talked about budget and management, the name of my office being budget and management." He said Carter asked "good questions" but did not indicate the direction he is moving on budget matters.

Lynn said Carter didn't ask to have any influence on the budget Ford is preparing to submit.

"We talked about management matters, organization matters, techniques of putting budgets together," Lynn declared. "It covered a wide range of subjects. It was obvious to me the governor had given this a great deal of thought."

Lynn said any specifics about the conversation would have to come from Carter.

The president-elect arrived in Washington on Sunday night, flying from Albany, Ga., in a chartered jet. As has become his custom, Carter carried his own suitbag as he walked off the plane. He planned to use Blair House, the government guest residence for visiting dignitaries, as his base of operations.

In addition to Lynn and Rumsfeld, the secretaries of Treasury and Health, Education and Welfare planned to visit him there. But Carter said he would cross the street to confer with Ford in the White House for his first visit with his defeated rival since the last of their three debates one month ago.

Asked how he felt arriving in Washington as president-elect, Carter said he felt "gratitude to the people of this country for giving me their confidence and a determination not to disappoint them.

"I feel a very deep and sober sense of responsibility about the future," he said.

On Sunday, Carter attended services at the Plains Baptist Church.

Arkansas man is killed after raping 2 women

FESTUS, Mo. (AP) — An Arkansas man was shot to death Sunday after he abducted three women, raped two of them and led police on a high-speed chase.

Andrew A. Howard Jr., 22, of Pine Bluff, was fatally wounded a few miles north of here, some 235 miles from where he had abducted a 23-year-old West Memphis, Ark., woman, the Missouri Highway Patrol said.

After raping the Arkansas woman, Howard also allegedly raped one of two young female hitchhikers from Clio, Mich., that he forced the Arkansas woman to pick up.

The crime spree ended when Jefferson County Deputy Edward Kemp shot out one of the tires on Howard's car and eventually shot Howard after the suspect's car rolled over.

Kemp, a five-year veteran of the department, said today police have been unable to determine Howard's motivation. Kemp also said he was unaware of any previous record Howard may have had with authorities.

Police said Howard forced the Arkansas woman into the car he was driving about midnight Saturday at a diner.

Displaying a .22-caliber revolver, he ordered her to drive north on Interstate 55. They traveled for about 100 miles before she was told to pull off the road near New Madrid, Mo., where he raped her, police said.

The two women hitchhikers, age 17 and 18, were taken into the car about 15 miles north of New Madrid. Some 75 miles up the road, Howard let the Arkansas woman out on a barren stretch of road.

He threatened her and ordered her not to call police, but she soon walked to a service station and called Perryville police. About 6 a.m. the Missouri Highway Patrol alerted police along to be on the lookout for the car.

Then one of the two other women was raped somewhere between Perryville and Bloomsdale, Mo., police. The car continued north, with one of the women driving.

Jefferson County deputies Steve Hubbard and Kemp were alerted and stopped Howard's car. Kemp said he saw Howard point a pistol at the woman and she pulled back out onto the interstate. As the car passed Kemp's patrol car, the deputy shot out the right rear tire of the suspect's vehicle.

Kemp gave the following account of what ensued:

After driving on the flattened wheel at speeds exceeding 110 miles an hour for about a mile, the tire disintegated and Howard took the wheel—and maintained a speed of 80 mph on the wheel rim.

Howard left I-55 at the U. S. 61-67 exit, made a U-turn and exchanged shots with Kemp before returning to the northbound lane of theinterstate.

The suspect exchanged gunfire with a Peveley patrolman at a one-car roadblock, with neither injured.

A short time later the chase came to an end when Festus Patrolman Ronald Ruess jockeyed and slowed his northbound patrol car in front of Howard's car to keep him from passing.

Howard lost control of his vehicle, which went into the median and overturned several times.

The car landed right-side-up and one of the woman passengers scrambled out the front passenger window, as Ruess and Kemp began running toward the car.

Howard crawled about halfway out of window, pointed his cocked weapon at the woman but then saw Kemp coming toward him and swung his pistol toward the deputy.

Kemp fired a shot from his .44-caliber magnum service revolver from a distance of 15 feet that struck Howard below the right shoulder blade in his back. Howard's weapon did not discharge.

Howard was taken to Jefferson Memorial Hospital here, where he died an hour later at 7:40 a.m.

The second woman in the car remained on the floor in the back seat throughout the entire chase. Both women were treated a the hospital for minor injuries and one w picked up by her father from Detroit.

Accidents kill 1, hurt 3 on Bootheel roads

A Fairdealing man was killed, two persons were seriously injured and one person received minor injuries in three area traffic accidents Sunday, the highway patrol said today.

The fatality was the 103rd this year on Southeast Missouri highways compared to 102 persons killed during the same period in 1974.

The fatal accident occurred at 12:50 a.m. Sunday on Highway 67, 15 miles south of Poplar Bluff in Butler County, when a northbound car, driven by Earl Benton Young, 39, of Fairdealing, attempted to pass a northbound truck driven by Aaron Preston Lindley, 40, of San Antonio, Tex.

As the Young car passed the Lindley truck, it struck nearly head on a southbound car driven by Willis Coleman, 37, of Corning, Ark.

The Young car was knocked into the path of the Lindley truck. The truck then struck the Young car and ran off the road.

Young was killed, and his body was taken to Russell-Emert Funeral Home in Corning, Ark.

Seriously injured was Coleman, who was taken to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

An Oxley man received serious injuries in a three-vehicle accident at 10:40 a.m. Sunday on Highway 60, three miles east of Fisk.

The accident occurred when the left front tire of a westbound car driven by Michael A. Ray, 23, of North Little Rock, Ark. blew out, causing the car to strike a guardrail on the right, swerve across the highway and strike a camper trailer being driven east by Olan D. Porter Jr., 22, of New Madrid, and then hit head on an eastbound car driven by Robert A. Paukner, 22, of Oxley.

Seriously injured was Paukner, who was taken to Veterans Administration Hospital at Poplar Bluff.

One person received minor injuries in a two-vehicle accident at 12:15 p. . Sunday on Route UU, two miles east of Tinkerville in Dunklin County according to the highway patrol.

Officers said the accident occurred when an east bound pickup truck driven by Jonathan Charles Cook, 28, of Gobler, pulled to the left o the highway and stopped, and was struck in the rear by an eastbound car driven by Jessie H. Scott, 63, of Blytheville, Ark.

Receiving minor injuries was a passenber in the Scott car, Ida Mae Phillips, 90, of Kennett, who was taken to Dunklin County Memorial Hospital at Kennett.

Warring factions pledge cooperation in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Most of Lebanon was at peace and under Syrian occupation today on the 33rd anniversary of independence from France. Moslem and Christian leaders pledged to cooperate with President Elias Sarkis in rebuilding the ruined nation.

"Peace, peace with ourselves, peace in our country," Sarkis proclaimed in a broadcast after Syrian armored forces on Sunday occupied Moslem-controlled Tripoli and Sidon, the nation's second-and third-largest cities, without opposition.

The Syrian takeover, which touched off joyous celebration by the residents of the two port cities, came after 19 months of civil war between right-wing Christians and an alliance of Moslem leftists and Palestinians that took more than 37,000 lives.

This extended Syrian control to all of the country except a strip along the Israeli border, an area disputed between Palestinian guerrillas who formerly raided Israel from there and right-wing Christian militiamen who moved in when the Palestinians went north to fight on the Moslem side of the civil war.

Dexter police arrest 2 for pot possession

DEXTER — Two Canalou men were arrested Saturday for possession of marijuana and an Arkansas man was arrested Sunday morning and held for Arkansas authorities, police said today.

Arrested for possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana were James Marion Evans Jr., 25, and Harold Drake Evans Jr., age unknown, of Canalou.

The arrest was made on the Wal-Mart parking lot and the two were placed in the city jail at Dexter.

The men were released on bond Sunday after being charged with misdemeanor possession of marijuana a spokesman for the department said today.

Robert Paul Fuller, 29, of Jonesboro, Ark. was arrested about 8:45 a.m. Sunday at the bus station in Dexter.

The request to make the arrest was made by the Jonesboro Police Department, police said, in connection with a theft of over $500 in Jonesboro.

Fuller had reportedly boarded a bus at Jonesboro and was on his way to St. Louis.

The arrest was made when the bus had stopped at the station. Sgt. Jackie Jackson and Officer Scott Blankenship made the arrest.

Fuller was placed in the city jail, and was picked up by Arkansas authorities Sunday.

Thieves take car hubcaps, case

In the car were a watch valued at $60 and clothing valued at $50.

Four wire spoke hubcaps valued at $80 were taken from a car belonging to James Edward Holman, 713 Kendall St., between 10:30 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 a.m. Sunday while it was parked next to the Southside Cafe, on South Main Street.

Connie Sebro of Florence, Ala., reported the theft of a trave lcase valued at $30 and clothing valued at $60 from her room at the Holiday Inn motel, between 10 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Police find drug in car, 2 arrested

CHAFFEE — Two Cape Girardeau men were arrested Friday night in downtown Chaffee after the driver, Jeffrey Lynn Biby, 20, of Starview Trailer Courts at Cape Girardeau, was stopped for suspicion of driving while intoxicated and hashish was discovered in the car.

Police Chief Ray Olive said today Biby and a passenger in his car, Steven P. Haupe, 24, of Cape Girardeau Route One, were arrested about 11:35 p.m. Friday on North Main Street by Police Officer Jerry Wolsey.

Police said a search of the car resulted in the discovery of a quantity of hashish, found in the right front floorboard of the car, and a bottle of pills.

Oliver said 6.86 grams of hashish was found and tests are being conducted at the crime laboratory in Cape Girardeau to determine the type of pills found in the car.

Biby was charged with driving while intoxicated and released on $200 bond. He is to appear Nov. 29 in Chaffee City Court.

Haupe has been charged with possession of a controlled substance and was released on $500 bond, pending his appearance in Scott County Magistrate Court.

Patty back with family

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, back with her family for the first time in almost three years, says she's looking forward to reading the latest best-sellers, getting a dog and gaining weight.

"It was like I never left. It's nice to be home," the 22-yearold Miss Hearst said in a copyright interview in the San Francisco Examiner, her father's newspaper. "I'm just moving in, getting settled and wandering around."

Miss Hearst, bailed out while appealing her bank robbery conviction, was to place her first court-ordered telephone call to federal probation officials today from her parent's elegant Nob Hill apartment.

"I do anticipate her calling," district probation officer Harry Schloetter said in an interview Sunday. He said the newspaper heiress "could be in violation" if she failed to adhere to conditions outlined in release orders by U.S. District Judge William Orrick.

The conditions included calls to Schloetter's office every Monday and Thursday and monthly visits with probation officers while her attorneys appeal. She also needs permission to leave the state.

Schloetter said arrangements for monitoring Miss Hearst would not be extraordinary, but he said details were still to be worked out.

Miss Hearst was released from jail Friday on $1.5 million bail put up by the family she had reviled while a member of the Symbionese Liberation Army, the group that kidnaped her on Feb. 4, 1974. At the time she was abducted, her family lived in a mansion in suburban Hillsborough.

She reportedly spent the weekend quietly in her parents' apartment, telling an interviewer she planned to read the latest best-sellers, resume an interest in photography and get a dog. She also said she wanted to work someday for a magazine.

"I could use 10 more pounds," she said. "My clothes are too big. I weighed about 88 pounds during the trial. Now I'm up to about 94."

Her plans are dependent on the appeal of her seven-year prison sentence — a process expected to consume months. She is due to go on trial Jan. 10 in Los Angeles on separate state assault and kidnap charges stemming from a 1974 shooting and shoplifting incident while she was in the company of the SLA.

James Browning, whose prosecution resulted in the conviction of Patricia Hearst for bank robbery, says he is frustrated that she is out on bail, but it "doesn't mean she's out forever."

Miss Hearst went free on a total of $1.5 million bail Friday, 33 months after she was kidaped from her Berkeley apartment by the Symbionese Liberation Army. Arguments on the appeal of her conviction are scheduled for next March.

A DAY FOR THANKSGIVING AND PRAISE

His heart wrung with anguish over the suffering and death of so many Americans on the battlefields of the Blue and the Gray, President Abraham Lincoln still found much to thank Almighty God for in the grim October days of 1863, in a Thanksgiving Day Proclamation that has significance and meaning for all of us today.

Said the great Lincoln:

"The year that is drawing to its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added which are of so extraordinary a nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever watchful providence of Almighty God...

"Needful diversions of wealth and strength from the fields of peaceful industry to the national defense have not arrested the plow, the shuttle, or the ship ... Population has steadily increased...

"No human counsel hath devised, not hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.

"It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people ... by a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens..."

WHEN WILL THE SPENDING END?

It took 173 years, until 1962, for federal spending to hit $100 billion a year. But by 1971, only nine years later, government spending had jumped to $200 billion a year.

THEN CONSIDER: In 1975, only four years later, government spending actually had reached $300 billion a year. And this year, after just two years, spending broke the $400-billion-a-year barrier.

NOW STOP, LOOK AND THINK!

Such huge spending has resulted in a bigger and bigger government debt. The interest alone on the national debt has more than doubled in ten years and is now over $40 billion a year. In fact, the interest burden on the debt constitutes ten percent of the federal budget!

Ask your representatives in Washington whether they have the courage to help stop this deadly trend. If they do not, we'll eventually wake up to find ourselves living in a fool's paradise.

COMPUTER RIP-OFFS ARE HURTING YOU

The really clever crook doesn't physically break into an office or bank these days. He does it electronically.

The growing problem of computer break-ins has drawn record attendance at recent computer industry conferences, where stories like the following are told:

In New York City, a Neighborhood Youth Corps employe with access to the agency's computerized check-writing system had more than 900 unauthorized payroll checks printed for his friends, at a cost of $2.7 million to the taxpayers.

In Washington, D.C., a swindler substituted his own magnetically marked checking account deposit slips for the blank ones a local bank kept on the counter. His account accumulated $250,000 in four days from other people's deposits. He then made a hefty withdrawal and hasn't been seen since.

In California, a young graduate student stole about $1 million worth of inventory from a utility company with the assistance of the company's own computer. He simply had the computer order equipment to various warehouses, where he picked it up in a disguised truck. He then sold the equipment through a dummy company.

Elsewhere, private computer files have been invaded by people adding huge amounts of money, in the form of personal credit, to charge accounts.

To protect computer-stored files, many companies have devised systems as tight as Fort Knox, and a whole new industry has grown up in the field of computer security. For example, a company called Sycor, Inc., of Ann Arbor, Mich., has come up with magnetic badges, key locks and even passwords to ensure that only legitimate personnel have access to specific file banks.

Despite all the safeguards, an estimated $200 million will be stolen from business this year by means of computer manipulation—an electronic rip-off that will inevitably be passed on to honest consumers in the form of higher prices.

TAKING THE GENERALS TO LUNCH

It is a small question, some might contend:

Who pays for the Army generals' sherry at lunch in their private Pentagon dining room? Representative Les Aspin of Wisconsin says the taxpayers do. The Army says no, the sherry comes with the lunch. Does it matter?

It matters. It matters because the question has symbolic overtones, reflecting justifiable concern about the whole range of privileges which the high military brass take unto themselves at public expense. Under prodding, the armed services have reduced those privileges to some extent. More could be done along these lines—for one thing, as Aspin notes, by ending the taxpayers' subsidy of Pentagon dining room meals. That subsidy, according to his figures, averaged $12.03 per meal served last year.

This is what makes it possible for an officer to buy lunch—with a choice of juice or sherry—at a bargain basement price; the taxpayer picks up most of the tab. Aspin's proposed solution is to contract Pentagon dining service to private companies, in effect requiring the generals and admirals to pay what it costs to serve them their lunch. Why shouldn't they?—The Daily Dunklin Democrat, Kennett, Mo.

SOVIET RESEARCH A GROWING THREAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — We concentrate on the rate of Soviet arms buildup and military spending.

The direction of Soviet research should concern us more.

Data now available here makes clear the Kremlin is investing heavily in poison gas, germ and radiation warfare. They have an extremely wide-ranging program for developing new chemical, bacteriological and radiation agents, new methods for the effective delivery of these terror weapons and new means of defense against them. The studies include means for assuring their use of these agents would not do damage to their own troops, as did the use of poison gas by the Germans in World War I.

It is now known that the chemical and bacteriological programs have been on a top burner in the USSR for many years— many of the studies having been disguised as ordinary civilian medical research.

This research program includes studies into the relative effectiveness of multiple chemical and bacteriological combinations as compared with single agents.

The Russians appear to have been convinced for some time that a delivery system containing a compound of several deadly chemicals or several deadly bacteriological-biological agents can be many times as effective as agents containing but one powerful chemical or one type of disease germ. Counter agents, defensive clothing and equipment, precautionary practices and treatment are much more difficult.

Even more disturbing is the fact that it may be extremely difficult for the defense in any military operation to quickly determine the combination of agents being used. By the time analysis is complete, the chemical agents may have done their deadly work. Once the defense solves this problem, a new combination of chemicals can be introduced and the disaster repeated.

The bacteriological-biological studies being made by the Russians include diseases which attack humans and those which attack plants and animals. The agents they're working with are capable, as noted above, of inducing one type of disease or another, or a combination of diseases at one shot.

It will be recalled that the Russians experimented with new types of CBR several years back on the battlefields of Yemen. This was hushed up and quickly forgotten.

A second top priorty in Soviet military research aims at insuring the invulnerability of their missile systems—development of mobile land-based missiles, improvement in submarine-launched missiles, the development of less-noisy missile launching submarines to make them more difficult to detect and track. Indications are that the Soviet scientists have made rapid progress in these areas.

Not much has been heard of late of Soviet technological advances in space. Much has been made of apparent Soviet failures in systems they've designed to shoot down satellites. But there is now considerable evidence that the current Soviet military space program is well conceived, broad and imaginative enough to lead to breakthroughs in the use of space for military purposes. Though the Soviets have had many disappointments in this area, it is expected here their persistence will lead to some developments which will give us pause.

There's another less dramatic and more pedestrian area of Soviet research which could in the end be of major importance their strong metallurgical program. They're now developing some very high-strength metals and coming up with imaginative methods for the production of alloys and for processing metals. These developments make possible the design of superior weapons.

DOUBT IT IS WORTH THE COST

Many people question the advisability of continuing the Department of Consumer Affairs at Jefferson City because they seriously question whether or not the results justify the cost of the department.

It was made possible under the reorganization act of Missouri and became effective in 1974.

In those two years, by its own statement recently issued, it saved Missouri consumers only about $18,000, or around $9,000 each year.

What the department didn't give was the cost of operating the department for a year in order to save that $9,000.

The guess of most people is that it costs the taxpayers dollars for every dime the department saves anyone.

Most people also think that the new Small Claims Court in which a person can file a suit for anything under $500, without having to hire an attorney, could very well do all that the Consumer Affairs department is doing, at a lot less money.

PICKING ON SENATOR LEE

Many a politician gains public sympathy with the charge that the newspapers are picking on him, making him the target of a personal vendetta. A classic example of the why-pick-on-me class has been state Senator Lawrence Lee, a St. Louis lawmaker who fortunately is retiring at the end of this year. Lee has often claimed the press was picking on him when it reported his peccadilloes which have included throwing hard boiled eggs in the Senate chamber.

Holier-than- thou Lee, however, has just been exposed again. Named to head an unimportant interim committee this summer, Lee convened it at a Lake of Ozarks resort and then spent less than two hours on the public's business. The remainder of the time was devoted to rest and rehabiliation — all at the expense of the taxpayer.

Of course Lee complains that the latest publicity is still another example of the press picking on him. To be more accurate, it's another example of legislators picking the taxpayer's pockets. — The Daily Dunklin Democrat Kennett, Mo.

It's all here. "Gay" news on the tube. Full expression time for the politically profane and professorial blacks on television and radio. A medical school which matches New York's. The much maligned universities, which Northerners think of only when they recall Bobby Kennedy's assault or see a football game. Churches of all faiths. A glistening, modern Jewish temple.

Nope. The social action front isn't the force which will enmesh the new Carter presidency in embarrassments such as those of recent weeks in his home state.

Mr. Carter does have a "Southern problem." But on the industrial, not the social or ecclesiastical fronts. And it will hit him right square in the face like a pie in a prehistoric Mack Sennett movie. What the American labor movement wants from him in the first hundred days is the "freeing" of 20 states, many of them in the South and Southwest, from right-to-work laws.

These statutes ban the union shop, the agency shop, the maintenance of membership shop, the union security formulas devised by John Kennedy's labor adviser, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg (whom, incidentally, Jimmy Carter telephoned long ago for advice and support on the labor front).

Also banned is the dues checkoff, without which, as one influential national labor leader said, "our organizational life is hell because we can't get the rank-and-file to pay its dues regularly and frequently not at all." Thus, actually it would do such powerful organizations as Leonard Woodcock's United Auto Workers little good to unionize the South in general, and the seven new General Motors plants there, in particular.

Aside from the perennial Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union (AFL-CIO) campaign against the J. P. Stevens textile company, the most active and now heavily publicized unionization drive is the UAW's campaign to organize the Southern GM plants. It wouldn't do much for the political status of Gov. Carter's first labor ally, Leonard Woodcock, if this Detroit labor leader were unable to convince tiny work forces, ranging from 200 to 3,800, in new GM plants spread over a wide area from Alabama and Louisiana to nearby Clinton (Miss.), to join the 40- year- old auto union.

Thus far, Woodcock's drive, directed by Chicago-based UAW vice president Pat Greathouse, has failed. Why? I drove out to the neareby Clinton (Miss.) Packard Electric division plant of GM. It's three years old. Work force runs about 3,800. Twice, these employes have rejected the auto union in official labor board elections. And with an increasing margin.

Yet wages -- the Southern differential – are between $1.05 to $1.20 an hour less than in Warren, Ohio, or in Detroit.

Auto union leaders say it's the so-called GM "Southern strategy" which has beaten them. With the regularity of a computer print-out, the angered GM vice president for industrial relations, George B. Morris Jr. (who bargains with the union's national leaders at the "main table" in Detroit), says there isn't any strategy at all.

Fact is that the Southern plant managers, either new in their new plant environment or young, have decided to get tough, talk back, unleash their own anti-union propaganda and maintain a community wage level -- "to remain competitive." Their point is they are helping to turn agricultural economies into a new industrial, well-paying society.

And working with them is that environment. The new managers are turning farm hands, a heavy percentage of them black, into skilled workers. The new industrial proletariat likes it. The pay is higher than it's been. They find themselves having an "upward mobility," including supervisory jobs. They still live in rural areas. Some of them continueas part-time farm workers.

Their lower wage goes much further than either the New Yorkers' or the Detroiters'. Life styles are easy. Sunbelt clothing is less costly and eschews the need to battle heavy winters. Homes can be built -- or rentals obtained -- at less than half the money needed up North.

They note they're not hit by triple taxes as in New York City -- where the factory work force has shrunk by 50 per cent since 1947. Nor is there an 8 per cent sales tax as in the Big Apple.

Thus the veteran auto workers' leaders find themselves in about the same political posture as did they and the Reuther brothers back in the late '30s. At that time they beat back the auto, steel and other mass production corporations with the aid of President Roosevelt and thethen Michigan Gov. Frank Murphy. These two men remade the national and state laws for the unions.

Now again labor is looking toward a similar combination – President Carter and, in Mississippi, the "workingman" governor, 49-year-old Charles (Cliff) Finch. The latter, a wealthy lawyer, "made it" last year by putting in one day a week as a blue collar worker, hauling in shrimp nets, driving trucks, plowing fields, piloting bulldozers, laboring in shipyards.

But if this neo-New Deal combination gets the right-to-work law repealed and throws its political muscle in with labor it will equalize production costs and jeopardize the South's competitiveness and profitability. That's President Carter's Southern problem.

Frost Expects Nixon to 'Tell All'

by Jack Anderson and Les Whitten

WASHINGTON -- When Richard Nixon faces the television cameras for his first interview since he abandoned the White House, he'll be cross-examined as if he were on the witness stand.

TV interviewer David Frost, in the strictest of secrecy, has drawn up a set of questions that would satisfy a Watergate prosecutor. If Nixon balks over the rough line of questioning, the entertainer turned investigator may take legal action to compel him to reply.

Sources close to Frost say that any refusal to answer the hard questions would "not be in the spirit of the contract," which provides for an estimated $750,000 payment to the former president. They consider a lawsuit, however, only an "extreme possibility."

Frost himself, in a guarded talk with us from Paris, played down any such possibility. "I think," he said, "that (Nixon) wants to confront his past." Frost declined further comment.

To prevent the questions from leaking out before the taping session with Nixon next March, Frost has written harsh confidentiality clauses into the contracts with his three researchers. Nevertheless, we have learned that pointed questions will be put to Nixon:

— Was he responsible for the criminal erasure of the famous 18 and one half-minute tape segment, which might have implicated him much earlier in the Watergate coverup?

— Does Nixon know of any other illegal acts, besides those aready in print, that the White House plumbers carried out?

— Is he aware of other improper activities, not yet revealed, of the FBI, Central Intelligence Agency and Internal Revenue Service?

— Did Nixon authorize the so-called "Kissinger wiretaps" of newsmen and Kissinger aides? Did he approve any other wiretaps?

Frost also plans to ask the deposed president personal questions about his emotional reactions and his phlebitis attack after he was forced out of the White House. And there will be historical questions, of course, about Nixon's role in ending the Vietnam war, negotiating the detente with Russia and China, the SALT talks, and the military coup in Chile.

Frost will conduct 12 two-hour, raw interviews with Nixon at San Clemente. These will be compressed into four shows, each to run 90 minutes. Frost hopes to put the programs on the air during consecutive weeks, beginning in May.

He wrote into his contract a clause that no one, including Nixon, will have the right to edit the raw material but Frost himself. He has hired three crack investigators -- James Reston, Jr., Phil Stanford and Robert Zelnick -- to help him with the basic research. Clearly, the famous TV interviewer will pull no punches.

MOON TROUPE: Rev. Sun Myung Moon, the self-proclaimed Korean holy man, has frequently lobbied in the halls of Congress on behalf of his religion, his country and the anti-Communist cause. We have previously reported how his missionaries collar congressmen and even frequent the inner sanctums of House Speaker Carl Albert's office.

Now confidential State Department cables reveal that Moon's minions have been throwing their weight around in the United Nations, in Africa and in the Middle East.

A June, 1975, classified cable from the U.S. mission at the United Nations to the American embassy in Sierra Leone, for example, claimed that Moon's Unification Church had acted as a "professional, well-financed lobbyist group at the 29th UNGA (United Nations General Assembly)."

The Moon disciples, stated the cable, had worked with another group, protesting the treatment of Japanese nationals living in North Korea. The Moon troupe "consisted of very determined and well-organized people who are not willing to give up without (a) fight," the UN mission reported.

American diplomats in Sierra Leone had become concerned about the activities of Moon missionaries in that country who were presenting themselves as representatives of a firm called the Ginseng Trading Corporation. The U.S. ambassador asked the State Department for information.

The "Ginseng Trading Corporation (is) one of two corporations set up by (the) church," replied the home office. The tea company's agents were in Sierra Leone, the State Department cabled, primarily for business purposes, but corporate officials had "no objections" if they wanted to do missionary work at the same time.

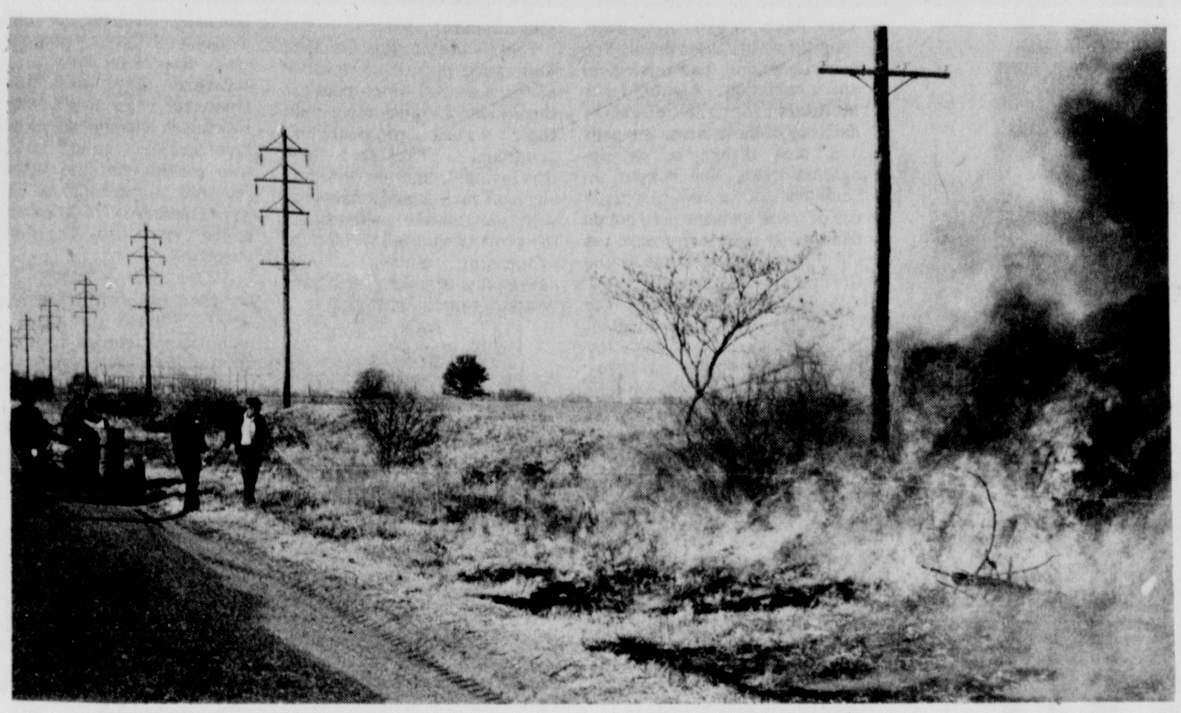

The U.S. embassy in Amman, Jordan, also cabled the State Department in 1975 to request a check on the "bona fides" of Moon's ginseng tea company. A mysterious Mr. Johnson, claiming to represent the tea firm, had strolled into the embassy and talked vaguely about getting "to know the culture" and learning "a little Arabic."

"Mr. Johnson is 27 years old, has high school education, and could offer very little information about the company, its goals and procedures," stated the cable. Could Washington "discreetly inquire" about Johnson?

A search of State Deparment files turned up no answer to the Amman cable. A department official said the query was probably answered in some other form.

Footnote: A spokesman for the Unification Church confirmed that Moon followers had worked with another group at the UN, but he insisted that "the Church was never involved in UN lobbying activities."

Carter travels to White House today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter, getting a look at his new home on his first post-election visit to Washington, met with a parade of high-level administration officials today before an afternoon session with President Ford at the White House.

James Lynn, who is Ford's director of the Office of Managment and Budget, began the parade shortly before 9 a.m. EDT. He went to Blair House to meet with Carter, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House and the Old Executive Office Building complex.

As he left, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld walked in. Both men were preceded by the vice president-elect.

Asked what he and Carter talked about, Lynn said: "Believe it or not, we talked about budget and management, the name of my office being budget and management." He said Carter asked "good questions" but did not indicate the direction he is moving on budget matters.

Lynn said Carter didn't ask to have any influence on the budget Ford is preparing to submit.

"We talked about management matters, organization matters, techniques of putting budgets together," Lynn declared. "It covered a wide range of subjects. It was obvious to me the governor had given this a great deal of thought."

Lynn said any specifics about the conversation would have to come from Carter.

The president-elect arrived in Washington on Sunday night, flying from Albany, Ga., in a chartered jet. As has become his custom, Carter carried his own suitbag as he walked off the plane. He planned to use Blair House, the government guest residence for visiting dignitaries, as his base of operations.

In addition to Lynn and Rumsfeld, the secretaries of Treasury and Health, Education and Welfare planned to visit him there. But Carter said he would cross the street to confer with Ford in the White House for his first visit with his defeated rival since the last of their three debates one month ago.

Asked how he felt arriving in Washington as president-elect, Carter said he felt "gratitude to the people of this country for giving me their confidence and a determination not to disappoint them.

"I feel a very deep and sober sense of responsibility about the future," he said.

On Sunday, Carter attended services at the Plains Baptist Church.

Arkansas man is killed after raping 2 women

FESTUS, Mo. (AP) — An Arkansas man was shot to death Sunday after he abducted three women, raped two of them and led police on a high-speed chase.

Andrew A. Howard Jr., 22, of Pine Bluff, was fatally wounded a few miles north of here, some 235 miles from where he had abducted a 23-year-old West Memphis, Ark., woman, the Missouri Highway Patrol said.

After raping the Arkansas woman, Howard also allegedly raped one of two young female hitchhikers from Clio, Mich., that he forced the Arkansas woman to pick up.

The crime spree ended when Jefferson County Deputy Edward Kemp shot out one of the tires on Howard's car and eventually shot Howard after the suspect's car rolled over.

Kemp, a five-year veteran of the department, said today police have been unable to determine Howard's motivation. Kemp also said he was unaware of any previous record Howard may have had with authorities.

Police said Howard forced the Arkansas woman into the car he was driving about midnight Saturday at a diner.

Displaying a .22-caliber revolver, he ordered her to drive north on Interstate 55. They traveled for about 100 miles before she was told to pull off the road near New Madrid, Mo., where he raped her, police said.

The two women hitchhikers, age 17 and 18, were taken into the car about 15 miles north of New Madrid. Some 75 miles up the road, Howard let the Arkansas woman out on a barren stretch of road.

He threatened her and ordered her not to call police, but she soon walked to a service station and called Perryville police. About 6 a.m. the Missouri Highway Patrol alerted police along to be on the lookout for the car.

Then one of the two other women was raped somewhere between Perryville and Bloomsdale, Mo., police. The car continued north, with one of the women driving.

Jefferson County deputies Steve Hubbard and Kemp were alerted and stopped Howard's car. Kemp said he saw Howard point a pistol at the woman and she pulled back out onto the interstate. As the car passed Kemp's patrol car, the deputy shot out the right rear tire of the suspect's vehicle.

Kemp gave the following account of what ensued:

After driving on the flattened wheel at speeds exceeding 110 miles an hour for about a mile, the tire disintegated and Howard took the wheel—and maintained a speed of 80 mph on the wheel rim.

Howard left I-55 at the U. S. 61-67 exit, made a U-turn and exchanged shots with Kemp before returning to the northbound lane of theinterstate.

The suspect exchanged gunfire with a Peveley patrolman at a one-car roadblock, with neither injured.

A short time later the chase came to an end when Festus Patrolman Ronald Ruess jockeyed and slowed his northbound patrol car in front of Howard's car to keep him from passing.

Howard lost control of his vehicle, which went into the median and overturned several times.

The car landed right-side-up and one of the woman passengers scrambled out the front passenger window, as Ruess and Kemp began running toward the car.

Howard crawled about halfway out of window, pointed his cocked weapon at the woman but then saw Kemp coming toward him and swung his pistol toward the deputy.

Kemp fired a shot from his .44-caliber magnum service revolver from a distance of 15 feet that struck Howard below the right shoulder blade in his back. Howard's weapon did not discharge.

Howard was taken to Jefferson Memorial Hospital here, where he died an hour later at 7:40 a.m.

The second woman in the car remained on the floor in the back seat throughout the entire chase. Both women were treated a the hospital for minor injuries and one w picked up by her father from Detroit.

Accidents kill 1, hurt 3 on Bootheel roads

A Fairdealing man was killed, two persons were seriously injured and one person received minor injuries in three area traffic accidents Sunday, the highway patrol said today.

The fatality was the 103rd this year on Southeast Missouri highways compared to 102 persons killed during the same period in 1974.

The fatal accident occurred at 12:50 a.m. Sunday on Highway 67, 15 miles south of Poplar Bluff in Butler County, when a northbound car, driven by Earl Benton Young, 39, of Fairdealing, attempted to pass a northbound truck driven by Aaron Preston Lindley, 40, of San Antonio, Tex.

As the Young car passed the Lindley truck, it struck nearly head on a southbound car driven by Willis Coleman, 37, of Corning, Ark.

The Young car was knocked into the path of the Lindley truck. The truck then struck the Young car and ran off the road.

Young was killed, and his body was taken to Russell-Emert Funeral Home in Corning, Ark.

Seriously injured was Coleman, who was taken to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

An Oxley man received serious injuries in a three-vehicle accident at 10:40 a.m. Sunday on Highway 60, three miles east of Fisk.

The accident occurred when the left front tire of a westbound car driven by Michael A Ray, 23, of North Little Rock, Ark. blew out, causing the car to strike a guardrail on the right, swerve across the highway and strike a camper trailer being driven east by Olan D. Porter Jr., 22, of New Madrid, and then hit head on an eastbound car driven by Robert A. Paukner, 22, of Oxley.

Seriously injured was Paukner, who was taken to Veterans Administration Hospital at Poplar Bluff.

One person received minor injuries in a two-vehicle accident at 12:15 p. . Sunday on Route UU, two miles east of Tinkerville in Dunklin County according to the highway patrol.

Officers said the accident occurred when an east bound pickup truck driven by Jonathan Charles Cook, 28, of Gobler, pulled to the left o the highway and stopped, and was struck in the rear by an eastbound car driven by Jessie H. Scott, 63, of Blytheville, Ark.

Receiving minor injuries was a passenber in the Scott car, Ida Mae Phillips, 90, of Kennett, who was taken to Dunklin County Memorial Hospital at Kennett.

Warring factions pledge cooperation in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Most of Lebanon was at peace and under Syrian occupation today on the 33rd anniversary of independence from France. Moslem and Christian leaders pledged to cooperate with President Elias Sarkis in rebuilding the ruined nation.

"Peace, peace with ourselves, peace in our country," Sarkis proclaimed in a broadcast after Syrian armored forces on Sunday occupied Moslem-controlled Tripoli and Sidon, the nation's second-and third-largest cities, without opposition.

The Syrian takeover, which touched off joyous celebration by the residents of the two port cities, came after 19 months of civil war between right-wing Christians and an alliance of Moslem leftists and Palestinians that took more than 37,000 lives.

This extended Syrian control to all of the country except a strip along the Israeli border, an area disputed between Palestinian guerrillas who formerly raided Israel from there and right-wing Christian militiamen who moved in when the Palestinians went north to fight on the Moslem side of the civil war.

Dexter police arrest 2 for pot possession

DEXTER — Two Canalou men were arrested Saturday for possession of marijuana and an Arkansas man was arrested Sunday morning and held for Arkansas authorities, police said today.

Arrested for possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana were James Marion Evans Jr., 25, and Harold Drake Evans Jr., age unknown, of Canalou.

The arrest was made on the Wal-Mart parking lot and the two were placed in the city jail at Dexter.

The men were released on bond Sunday after being charged with misdemeanor possession of marijuana a spokesman for the department said today.

Robert Paul Fuller, 29, of Jonesboro, Ark. was arrested about 8:45 a.m. Sunday at the bus station in Dexter.

The request to make the arrest was made by the Jonesboro Police Department, police said, in connection with a theft of over $500 in Jonesboro.

Fuller had reportedly boarded a bus at Jonesboro and was on his way to St. Louis.

The arrest was made when the bus had stopped at the station. Sgt. Jackie Jackson and Officer Scott Blankenship made the arrest.

Fuller was placed in the city jail, and was picked up by Arkansas authorities Sunday.

Thieves take car hubcaps, case

James Evans of Canalou told officers that this 1967 automobile, which he had just purchased, was stolen sometime over the weekend while it was parked at Sikeston Auto Salvage, 1615 W. Malone Ave.

In the car were a watch valued at $60 and clothing valued at $50.

Four wire spoke hubcaps valued at $80 were taken from a car belonging to James Edward Holman, 713 Kendall St., between 10:30 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 a.m. Sunday while it was parked next to the Southside Cafe, on South Main Street.

Connie Sebro of Florence, Ala., reported the theft of a trave lcase valued at $30 and clothing valued at $60 from her room at the Holiday Inn motel, between 10 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Police find drug in car, 2 arrested

CHAFFEE — Two Cape Girardeau men were arrested Friday night in downtown Chaffee after the driver, Jeffrey Lynn Biby, 20, of Starview Trailer Courts at Cape Girardeau, was stopped for suspicion of driving while intoxicated and hashish was discovered in the car.

Police Chief Ray Olive said today Biby and a passenger in his car, Steven P. Haupe, 24, of Cape Girardeau Route One, were arrested about 11:35 p.m. Friday on North Main Street by Police Officer Jerry Wolsey.

Police said a search of the car resulted in the discovery of a quantity of hashish, found in the right front floorboard of the car, and a bottle of pills.

Oliver said 6.86 grams of hashish was found and tests are being conducted at the crime laboratory in Cape Girardeau to determine the type of pills found in the car.

Biby was charged with driving while intoxicated and released on $200 bond. He is to appear Nov. 29 in Chaffee City Court.

Haupe has been charged with possession of a controlled substance and was released on $500 bond, pending his appearance in Scott County Magistrate Court.

Patty back with family

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, back with her family for the first time in almost three years, says she's looking forward to reading the latest best-sellers, getting a dog and gaining weight.

"It was like I never left. It's nice to be home," the 22-yearold Miss Hearst said in a copyright interview in the San Francisco Examiner, her father's newspaper. "I'm just moving in, getting settled and wandering around."

Miss Hearst, bailed out while appealing her bank robbery conviction, was to place her first court-ordered telephone call to federal probation officials today from her parent's elegant Nob Hill apartment.

"I do anticipate her calling," district probation officer Harry Schloetter said in an interview Sunday. He said the newspaper heiress "could be in violation" if she failed to adhere to conditions outlined in release orders by U.S. District Judge William Orrick.

The conditions included calls to Schloetter's office every Monday and Thursday and monthly visits with probation officers while her attorneys appeal. She also needs permission to leave the state.

Schloetter said arrangements for monitoring Miss Hearst would not be extraordinary, but he said details were still to be worked out.

Miss Hearst was released from jail Friday on $1.5 million bail put up by the family she had reviled while a member of the Symbionese Liberation Army, the group that kidnaped her on Feb. 4, 1974. At the time she was abducted, her family lived in a mansion in suburban Hillsborough.

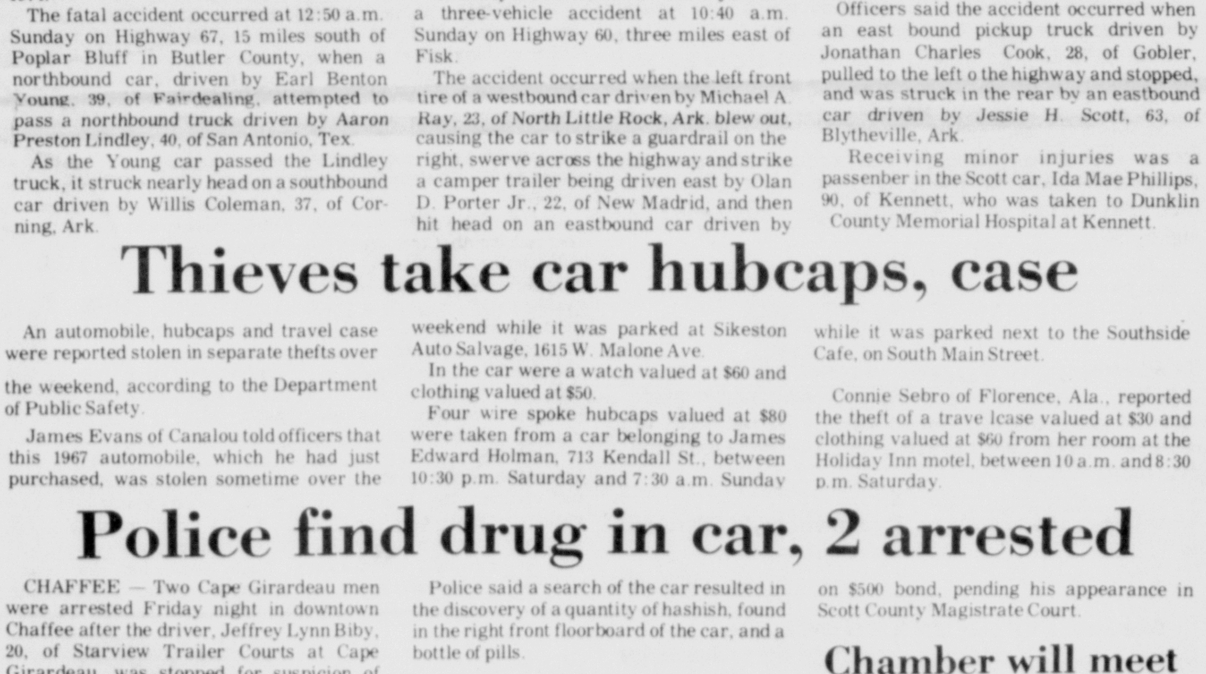

She reportedly spent the weekend quietly in her parents' apartment, telling an interviewer she planned to read the latest best-sellers, resume an interest in photography and get a dog. She also said she wanted to work someday for a magazine.

"I could use 10 more pounds," she said. "My clothes are too big. I weighed about 88 pounds during the trial. Now I'm up to about 94."

Her plans are dependent on the appeal of her seven-year prison sentence — a process expected to consume months. She is due to go on trial Jan. 10 in Los Angeles on separate state assault and kidnap charges stemming from a 1974 shooting and shoplifting incident while she was in the company of the SLA.

James Browning, whose prosecution resulted in the conviction of Patricia Hearst for bank robbery, says he is frustrated that she is out on bail, but it "doesn't mean she's out forever."

Miss Hearst went free on a total of $1.5 million bail Friday, 33 months after she was kidaped from her Berkeley apartment by the Symbionese Liberation Army. Arguments on the appeal of her conviction are scheduled for next March.

Dear Ann Landers...

Teens tell Ann the 'lines' they use

Dear Friends: Recently I asked my female teenage readers what "lines" the boys were using these days to break down their resistance. The response was staggering. Would you believe over 18,000 letters? To my surprise (although I should have learned long ago never to be surprised at what turns up on my desk) I received a handful of letters from boys telling me what "lines" the girls had used on THEM.

I received a few critical letters admonishing me for putting out a "how-to" list for beginners. "Young boys are plenty aggressive these days," wrote the mother of three daughters in Wheeling, West Virginia. "It's foolish to supply them with alternate 'lines' should theirs fail."

I hastened to inform "Wheeling mother" that the purpose of printing the "lines" was to wise up the naive and vulnerable who, too often, are snowed by cool cats on the make. Hopefully, if the girls see it in print, they will recognize it for what it is -- just a line. And a fairly standard one at that.

I promised to share my findings with you. Here they are:

Sharon, Pa.: "Come on. What are you afraid of? Don't be a baby. It's just part of growing up."

Louisville, Ky.: "If you really loved me you would. That's the way people express their true feelings. It's been going on since the world began."

Honolulu: "It's very painful for a guy to be in this condition and not get relief. You got me all heated up; now if you're any kind of a woman you'll take care of me."

Marshalltown, Iowa: "It will be good for your complexion. You should have seen my face before I did it. Honest, it's better than any medicine."

Carbondale, Ill.: "You're the most exciting chick I've ever met in my whole life. I have never wanted anybody the way I want you."

Fort Lauderdale: "Life is so uncertain. Who knows whether you'll be alive tomorrow? It would be awful if you died in an accident or something without experiencing the greatest thrill of all."

Mexico City: "You're awfully uptight. Sex is a great tension-breaker. It will make you feel relaxed."

Gatineau, Quebec: "I want to marry you someday. Now we have to find out if we are sexually compatible."

Rochester, N.Y.: "I've heard rumors that you're "lezzie.' If you aren't, prove it."

Nassau, The Bahamas: "I promise we won't go all the way unless you want to. We'll stop whenever you say."

Harrisburg, Pa.: "You have nothing to worry about. I'm sterile."

Toronto, Canada: "I know you want it as much as I do but you're afraid of your reputation. I swear I will never tell anybody. It will be our secret."

Shrewsbury, N.J.: "It isn't sex I'm after. I'm really in love with you. If you get pregnant I'll marry you right away."

Durham, N.C.: "You have the body of a woman. Mother Nature meant for you to have sex. You're ready for it."

Menu prices on the rise but consumers still eat out

LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Americans are spending more money at restaurants these days, even though menu prices are rising at a much faster rate than the cost of food at home.

And at least one culinary expert indicates that consumers may not always be getting their money's worth.

The sales forecast comes from the National Restaurant Association; the criticism comes from Franz K. Lemoine, director of a Providence, R.I., school that trains would-be chefs.

The restaurant association predicted recently that sales for the food service industry as a whole — including everything from school cafeterias to fancy restaurants — would total $86.9 billion next year, up 10.6 per cent from 1976.

"Today, for every $100 that an American family uses to purchase food, around $34 is spent on food away from home — one out of every three food dollars," said the association president, Patrick L. O'Malley. "By 1980, we feel confident that Americans will be spending two out of five dollars in our industry."

The biggest growth, said O'Malley, will be in fast-food establishments, "a segment (of the industry) which literally did not exist 20 years ago." The fast-food establishments now account for almost one-third of eating place sales and will increase 14.1 per cent next year, O'Malley said.

Menu prices in 1977 will rise an average of 6.5 per cent, a little less than this year's increase, according to the trade association.

Figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index show that the cost of food away from home rose 6.9 per cent from September 1975 to September 1976. The cost of food at home rose only 1 per cent in the same period. (The figures are not seasonally adjusted.)

Is the food worth the price?

Not always, says Lemoine, whose School of Culinary Arts at Johnson & Wales College claims to be the second largest culinary training institution in the nation.

Lemoine was critical of restaurants which offer frozen, pre-prepared and mass-marketed entrees at high prices. A filet of sole dish that is essentially the same thing you can buy for a couple dollars in the frozen food department of the grocery store may wind up on a restaurant menu for $8.50, he said.

The customer is as important as the kitchen staff in determining food quality, Lemoine said. "What makes food good is not trained chefs, but a discriminating public."

Lemoine said consumers can generally judge the quality of restaurant food before they taste a bite.

Among the things to look for: a well-lit dining room, no stale odor of food, tables arranged neatly with space between them, a menu that is in good condition without grease spots or ragged edges, an attractive table setting, friendly help and a clean rest room.

When it comes to the food itself, Lemoine said, hot food should be served hot on a hot plate; cold food should be cold. The plate should not be overcrowded; most restaurant food portions are "ridiculous," he said.

Area missionary league members attend workshop

Eighty persons representing 19 of the 30 member societies attended the Southeast Missouri Zone Lutheran Women's Missionary League's Christian Growth Workshop Nov. 15 at Christ Lutheran Church in Gordonville.

The morning presentation was given by Dr. James M. Drickey, professor of education and psychology at SeMo University. He spoke on "Daily Living From Eight to Eighty." Aging is a lifelong process and as we grow older we become more of what we really are. We should consider those vintage years instead of aging years and Dr. Drickey spoke about the disadvantages of aging and told ways of coping during this period.

Under the guidance guidance of the christian growth chairperson, Mrs. Elmer Palisch, time was devoted toward group study on creative projects that individual organizations can do. Helping with this were Mrs. Gene Crader, Mrs. Simon Heisserer, Mrs. Henry Wessel, Mrs. Oscar Gerken, Mrs. Norman Pruesser, Mrs. Robert Nussbaum, Mrs. A. H. Macke and Mrs. Lawrence Eatherton.

In the afternoon, a film entitled "Peegee" was viewed. The film dealt with a family visiting with their elderly relative in a nursing home. Mrs. Robert Knight, ACTION-RSVP representative for Scott County addressed the members. She spoke on "Aging And How To Make The Most of It." Her job is to recruit or motivate a senior citizen into community service using their individual talent. The Rev. Robert Daniel, zone counselor, conducted the devotions and led the group singing and Mrs. Gene Wachter was the organist.

A DAY FOR THANKSGIVING AND PRAISE

His heart wrung with anguish over the suffering and death of so many Americans on the battlefields of the Blue and the Gray, President Abraham Lincoln still found much to thank Almighty God for in the grim October days of 1863, in a Thanksgiving Day Proclamation that has significance and meaning for all of us today.

Said the great Lincoln:

"The year that is drawing to its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added which are of so extraordinary a nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever watchful providence of Almighty God...

"Needful diversions of wealth and strength from the fields of peaceful industry to the national defense have not arrested the plow, the shuttle, or the ship ... Population has steadily increased...

"No human counsel hath devised, not hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.

"It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people ... by a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens..."

HE'S GOT THE ANSWER

A Britisher was in the New Yorker hotel and was swapping jokes with the room clerk. The room clerk said to the Britisher, "I have a riddle: My mother and father had a baby, it wasn't my brother or my sister. Who was it?"

The Britisher gave up after a moment's thought and the clerk answered the riddle: "It was me!"

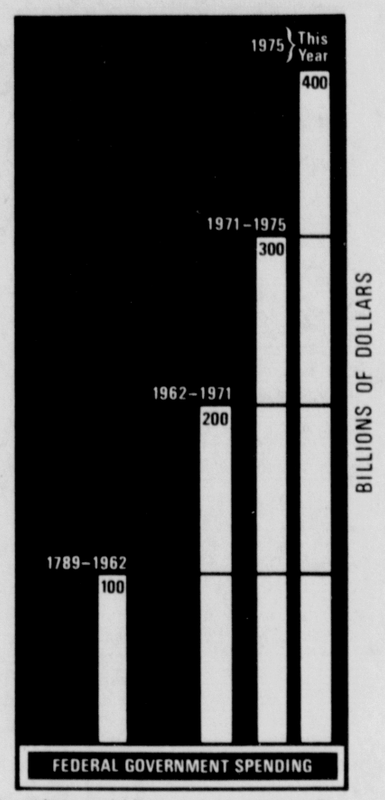

The Britisher decided to pull the tale on his countryman: "My parents had a baby. It wasn't my brother or my sister. Who was it?"

His friend gave up and the jokster came back with the solution: "The room clerk at the New Yorker Hotel."

WHEN WILL THE SPENDING END?

It took 173 years, until 1962, for federal spending to hit $100 billion a year. But by 1971, only nine years later, government spending had jumped to $200 billion a year.

THEN CONSIDER: In 1975, only four years later, government spending actually had reached $300 billion a year. And this year, after just two years, spending broke the $400-billion-a-year barrier.

NOW STOP, LOOK AND THINK!

Such huge spending has resulted in a bigger and bigger government debt. The interest alone on the national debt has more than doubled in ten years and is now over $40 billion a year. In fact, the interest burden on the debt constitutes ten percent of the federal budget!

Ask your representatives in Washington whether they have the courage to help stop this deadly trend. If they do not, we'll eventually wake up to find ourselves living in a fool's paradise.

COMPUTER RIP-OFFS ARE HURTING YOU

The really clever crook doesn't physically break into an office or bank these days. He does it electronically.

The growing problem of computer break-ins has drawn record attendance at recent computer industry conferences, where stories like the following are told:

In New York City, a Neighborhood Youth Corps employe with access to the agency's computerized check-writing system had more than 900 unauthorized payroll checks printed for his friends, at a cost of $2.7 million to the taxpayers.

In Washington, D.C., a swindler substituted his own magnetically marked checking account deposit slips for the blank ones a local bank kept on the counter. His account accumulated $250,000 in four days from other people's deposits. He then made a hefty withdrawal and hasn't been seen since.

In California, a young graduate student stole about $1 million worth of inventory from a utility company with the assistance of the company's own computer. He simply had the computer order equipment to various warehouses, where he picked it up in a disguised truck. He then sold the equipment through a dummy company.

Elsewhere, private computer files have been invaded by people adding huge amounts of money, in the form of personal credit, to charge accounts.

To protect computer-stored files, many companies have devised systems as tight as Fort Knox, and a whole new industry has grown up in the field of computer security. For example, a company called Sycor, Inc., of Ann Arbor, Mich., has come up with magnetic badges, key locks and even passwords to ensure that only legitimate personnel have access to specific file banks.

Despite all the safeguards, an estimated $200 million will be stolen from business this year by means of computer manipulation—an electronic rip-off that will inevitably be passed on to honest consumers in the form of higher prices.

TAKING THE GENERALS TO LUNCH

It is a small question, some might contend:

Who pays for the Army generals' sherry at lunch in their private Pentagon dining room? Representative Les Aspin of Wisconsin says the taxpayers do. The Army says no, the sherry comes with the lunch. Does it matter?

It matters. It matters because the question has symbolic overtones, reflecting justifiable concern about the whole range of privileges which the high military brass take unto themselves at public expense. Under prodding, the armed services have reduced those privileges to some extent. More could be done along these lines—for one thing, as Aspin notes, by ending the taxpayers' subsidy of Pentagon dining room meals. That subsidy, according to his figures, averaged $12.03 per meal served last year.

This is what makes it possible for an officer to buy lunch—with a choice of juice or sherry—at a bargain basement price; the taxpayer picks up most of the tab. Aspin's proposed solution is to contract Pentagon dining service to private companies, in effect requiring the generals and admirals to pay what it costs to serve them their lunch. Why shouldn't they?—The Daily Dunklin Democrat, Kennett, Mo.

SOVIET RESEARCH A GROWING THREAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — We concentrate on the rate of Soviet arms buildup and military spending.

The direction of Soviet research should concern us more.

Data now available here makes clear the Kremlin is investing heavily in poison gas, germ and radiation warfare. They have an extremely wide-ranging program for developing new chemical, bacteriological and radiation agents, new methods for the effective delivery of these terror weapons and new means of defense against them. The studies include means for assuring their use of these agents would not do damage to their own troops, as did the use of poison gas by the Germans in World War I.

It is now known that the chemical and bacteriological programs have been on a top burner in the USSR for many years— many of the studies having been disguised as ordinary civilian medical research.

This research program includes studies into the relative effectiveness of multiple chemical and bacteriological combinations as compared with single agents.

The Russians appear to have been convinced for some time that a delivery system containing a compound of several deadly chemicals or several deadly bacteriological-biological agents can be many times as effective as agents containing but one powerful chemical or one type of disease germ. Counter agents, defensive clothing and equipment, precautionary practices and treatment are much more difficult.

Even more disturbing is the fact that it may be extremely difficult for the defense in any military operation to quickly determine the combination of agents being used. By the time analysis is complete, the chemical agents may have done their deadly work. Once the defense solves this problem, a new combination of chemicals can be introduced and the disaster repeated.

The bacteriological-biological studies being made by the Russians include diseases which attack humans and those which attack plants and animals. The agents they're working with are capable, as noted above, of inducing one type of disease or another, or a combination of diseases at one shot.

It will be recalled that the Russians experimented with new types of CBR several years back on the battlefields of Yemen. This was hushed up and quickly forgotten.

A second top priorty in Soviet military research aims at insuring the invulnerability of their missile systems—development of mobile land-based missiles, improvement in submarine-launched missiles, the development of less-noisy missile launching submarines to make them more difficult to detect and track. Indications are that the Soviet scientists have made rapid progress in these areas.

Not much has been heard of late of Soviet technological advances in space. Much has been made of apparent Soviet failures in systems they've designed to shoot down satellites. But there is now considerable evidence that the current Soviet military space program is well conceived, broad and imaginative enough to lead to breakthroughs in the use of space for military purposes. Though the Soviets have had many disappointments in this area, it is expected here their persistence will lead to some developments which will give us pause.

There's another less dramatic and more pedestrian area of Soviet research which could in the end be of major importance their strong metallurgical program. They're now developing some very high-strength metals and coming up with imaginative methods for the production of alloys and for processing metals. These developments make possible the design of superior weapons.

DOUBT IT IS WORTH THE COST

Many people question the advisability of continuing the Department of Consumer Affairs at Jefferson City because they seriously question whether or not the results justify the cost of the department.

It was made possible under the reorganization act of Missouri and became effective in 1974.

In those two years, by its own statement recently issued, it saved Missouri consumers only about $18,000, or around $9,000 each year.

What the department didn't give was the cost of operating the department for a year in order to save that $9,000.

The guess of most people is that it costs the taxpayers dollars for every dime the department saves anyone.

Most people also think that the new Small Claims Court in which a person can file a suit for anything under $500, without having to hire an attorney, could very well do all that the Consumer Affairs department is doing, at a lot less money.

PICKING ON SENATOR LEE

Many a politician gains public sympathy with the charge that the newspapers are picking on him, making him the target of a personal vendetta. A classic example of the why-pick-on-me class has been state Senator Lawrence Lee, a St. Louis lawmaker who fortunately is retiring at the end of this year. Lee has often claimed the press was picking on him when it reported his peccadilloes which have included throwing hard boiled eggs in the Senate chamber.

Holier-than- thou Lee, however, has just been exposed again. Named to head an unimportant interim committee this summer, Lee convened it at a Lake of Ozarks resort and then spent less than two hours on the public's business. The remainder of the time was devoted to rest and rehabiliation — all at the expense of the taxpayer.

Of course Lee complains that the latest publicity is still another example of the press picking on him. To be more accurate, it's another example of legislators picking the taxpayer's pockets. — The Daily Dunklin Democrat Kennett, Mo.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Carter's Southern Problem:

Labor Chiefs want new President's aid in First 100 Days against South's industry

JACKSON, Miss. -- After several days and some 40 or 50 professional interviews and social conversations, I'm convinced that a short sabbatical visit to this Mississippi capital is mandatory for all Northern intellectuals, for the skilled and especially the semi-skilled commentators.

It's all here. "Gay" news on the tube. Full expression time for the politically profane and professorial blacks on television and radio. A medical school which matches New York's. The much maligned universities, which Northerners think of only when they recall Bobby Kennedy's assault or see a football game. Churches of all faiths. A glistening, modern Jewish temple.

Nope. The social action front isn't the force which will enmesh the new Carter presidency in embarrassments such as those of recent weeks in his home state.

Mr. Carter does have a "Southern problem." But on the industrial, not the social or ecclesiastical fronts. And it will hit him right square in the face like a pie in a prehistoric Mack Sennett movie. What the American labor movement wants from him in the first hundred days is the "freeing" of 20 states, many of them in the South and Southwest, from right-to-work laws.

These statutes ban the union shop, the agency- shop, the maintenance of membership shop, the union security formulas devised by John Kennedy's labor adviser, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg (whom, incidentally, Jimmy Carter telephoned long ago for advice and support on the labor front).

Also banned is the dues checkoff, without which, as one influential national labor leader said, "our organizational life is hell because we can't get the rank-and-file to pay its dues regularly and frequently not at all." Thus, actually it would do such powerful organizations as Leonard Woodcock's United Auto Workers little good to unionize the South in general, and the seven new General Motors plants there, in particular.

Aside from the perennial Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union (AFL-CIO) campaign against the J. P. Stevens textile company, the most active and now heavily publicized unionization drive is the UAW's campaign to organize the Southern GM plants. It wouldn't do much for the political status of Gov. Carter's first labor ally, Leonard Woodcock, if this Detroit labor leader were unable to convince tiny work forces, ranging from 200 to 3,800, in new GM plants spread over a wide area from Alabama and Louisiana to nearby Clinton (Miss.), to join the 40- year- old auto union.

Thus far, Woodcock's drive, directed by Chicago-based UAW vice president Pat Greathouse, has failed. Why? I drove out to the neareby Clinton (Miss.) Packard Electric division plant of GM. It's three years old. Work force runs about 3,800. Twice, these employes have rejected the auto union in official labor board elections. And with an increasing margin.

Yet wages -- the Southern differential – are between $1.05 to $1.20 an hour less than in Warren, Ohio, or in Detroit.

Auto union leaders say it's the so-called GM "Southern strategy" which has beaten them. With the regularity of a computer print-out, the angered GM vice president for industrial relations, George B. Morris Jr. (who bargains with the union's national leaders at the "main table" in Detroit), says there isn't any strategy at all.

Fact is that the Southern plant managers, either new in their new plant environment or young, have decided to get tough, talk back, unleash their own anti-union propaganda and maintain a community wage level -- "to remain competitive." Their point is they are helping to turn agricultural economies into a new industrial, well-paying society.

And working with them is that environment. The new managers are turning farm hands, a heavy percentage of them black, into skilled workers. The new industrial proletariat likes it. The pay is higher than it's been. They find themselves having an "upward mobility," including supervisory jobs. They still live in rural areas. Some of them continueas part-time farm workers.

Their lower wage goes much further than either the New Yorkers' or the Detroiters'. Life styles are easy. Sunbelt clothing is less costly and eschews the need to battle heavy winters. Homes can be built -- or rentals obtained – at less than half the money needed up North.

They note they're not hit by triple taxes as in New York City – where the factory work force has shrunk by 50 per cent since 1947. Nor is there an 8 per cent sales tax as in the Big Apple.

Thus the veteran auto workers' leaders find themselves in about the same political posture as did they and the Reuther brothers back in the late '30s. At that time they beat back the auto, steel and other mass production corporations with the aid of President Roosevelt and thethen Michigan Gov. Frank Murphy. These two men remade the national and state laws for the unions.

Now again labor is looking toward a similar combination – President Carter and, in Mississippi, the "workingman" governor, 49-year-old Charles (Cliff) Finch. The latter, a wealthy lawyer, "made it" last year by putting in one day a week as a blue collar worker, hauling in shrimp nets, driving trucks, plowing fields, piloting bulldozers, laboring in shipyards.

But if this neo-New Deal combination gets the right-to-work law repealed and throws its political muscle in with labor it will equalize production costs and jeopardize the South's competitiveness and profitability. That's President Carter's Southern problem.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Frost Expects Nixon to 'Tell All'

by Jack Anderson and Les Whitten

WASHINGTON -- When Richard Nixon faces the television cameras for his first interview since he abandoned the White House, he'll be cross-examined as if he were on the witness stand.

TV interviewer David Frost, in the strictest of secrecy, has drawn up a set of questions that would satisfy a Watergate prosecutor. If Nixon balks over the rough line of questioning, the entertainer turned investigator may take legal action to compel him to reply.

Sources close to Frost say that any refusal to answer the hard questions would "not be in the spirit of the contract," which provides for an estimated $750,000 payment to the former president. They consider a lawsuit, however, only an "extreme possibility."

Frost himself, in a guarded talk with us from Paris, played down any such possibility. "I think," he said, "that (Nixon) wants to confront his past." Frost declined further comment.

To prevent the questions from leaking out before the taping session with Nixon next March, Frost has written harsh confidentiality clauses into the contracts with his three researchers. Nevertheless, we have learned that pointed questions will be put to Nixon:

— Was he responsible for the criminal erasure of the famous 18 and one half-minute tape segment, which might have implicated him much earlier in the Watergate coverup?

— Does Nixon know of any other illegal acts, besides those aready in print, that the White House plumbers carried out?

— Is he aware of other improper activities, not yet revealed, of the FBI, Central Intelligence Agency and Internal Revenue Service?

— Did Nixon authorize the so-called "Kissinger wiretaps" of newsmen and Kissinger aides? Did he approve any other wiretaps?

Frost also plans to ask the deposed president personal questions about his emotional reactions and his phlebitis attack after he was forced out of the White House. And there will be historical questions, of course, about Nixon's role in ending the Vietnam war, negotiating the detente with Russia and China, the SALT talks, and the military coup in Chile.

Frost will conduct 12 two-hour, raw interviews with Nixon at San Clemente. These will be compressed into four shows, each to run 90 minutes. Frost hopes to put the programs on the air during consecutive weeks, beginning in May.

He wrote into his contract a clause that no one, including Nixon, will have the right to edit the raw material but Frost himself. He has hired three crack investigators -- James Reston, Jr., Phil Stanford and Robert Zelnick -- to help him with the basic research. Clearly, the famous TV interviewer will pull no punches.

MOON TROUPE: Rev. Sun Myung Moon, the self-proclaimed Korean holy man, has frequently lobbied in the halls of Congress on behalf of his religion, his country and the anti-Communist cause. We have previously reported how his missionaries collar congressmen and even frequent the inner sanctums of House Speaker Carl Albert's office.

Now confidential State Department cables reveal that Moon's minions have been throwing their weight around in the United Nations, in Africa and in the Middle East.

A June, 1975, classified cable from the U.S. mission at the United Nations to the American embassy in Sierra Leone, for example, claimed that Moon's Unification Church had acted as a "professional, well-financed lobbyist group at the 29th UNGA (United Nations General Assembly)."

The Moon disciples, stated the cable, had worked with another group, protesting the treatment of Japanese nationals living in North Korea. The Moon troupe "consisted of very determined and well-organized people who are not willing to give up without (a) fight," the UN mission reported.

American diplomats in Sierra Leone had become concerned about the activities of Moon missionaries in that country who were presenting themselves as representatives of a firm called the Ginseng Trading Corporation. The U.S. ambassador asked the State Department for information.

The "Ginseng Trading Corporation (is) one of two corporations set up by (the) church," replied the home office. The tea company's agents were in Sierra Leone, the State Department cabled, primarily for business purposes, but corporate officials had "no objections" if they wanted to do missionary work at the same time.

The U.S. embassy in Amman, Jordan, also cabled the State Department in 1975 to request a check on the "bona fides" of Moon's ginseng tea company. A mysterious Mr. Johnson, claiming to represent the tea firm, had strolled into the embassy and talked vaguely about getting "to know the culture" and learning "a little Arabic."

"Mr. Johnson is 27 years old, has high school education, and could offer very little information about the company, its goals and procedures," stated the cable. Could Washington "discreetly inquire" about Johnson?

A search of State Deparment files turned up no answer to the Amman cable. A department official said the query was probably answered in some other form.

Footnote: A spokesman for the Unification Church confirmed that Moon followers had worked with another group at the UN, but he insisted that "the Church was never involved in UN lobbying activities."

Odds catch up with Cardinals, Redskins win 16-10 thriller

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The clock finally struck at midnight for those masters of the Cinderella finish — the St. Louis Cardinals.

Sounding the knell was the Washington Redskins, who withstood two of St. Louis' patented come-from-behind attempts in the final five minutes to capture a 16-10 victory Sunday and remain alive for a berth in the National Football League playoffs.

Mike Thomas, a second-year running back, inflicted the most severe damage on the Cardinals, who had won their past three games in the final minutes.

The 190-pound Thomas rushed for a team record of 195 yards in 31 attempts and scored Washington's only touchdown.

"You can't catch 'em all, you can't win 'em all. We were bound to lose one like that — one day," said Cardinal quarterback Jim Hart, whose pass to wide receiver Mel Gray was dopped in the end zone with 40seconds to play.

Gray had two steps on the nearest Redskin defender but couldn't hang on, and after a fourth-down pass was overthrown, Washington ran out the clock.

"Right now, it's the biggest win we've had in six years," said Redskins Coach George Allen.

Washington, which would have been eliminated from the playoffs with a loss, carries a 7-4 record into its final three games, including a meeting with NFC East-leading Dallas.

The Redskins virtually must win all three to make the playoffs, while St. Louis has to capture two of its three remaining games in a schedule that begins with Dallas on Thanksgiving Day and includes AFC East-leading Baltimore. The Cardinals, 8-3, are a game behind the Cowboys.

"A victory would have saved quite a bit of pressure," St. Louis Coach Don Coryell said. "It still came down to the point where we didn't come through in the clutch. In the other games, we did that."

The pressure placed by Redskin defenders on Hart and the running attack of Thomas and John Riggins hurt the Cardinals most.

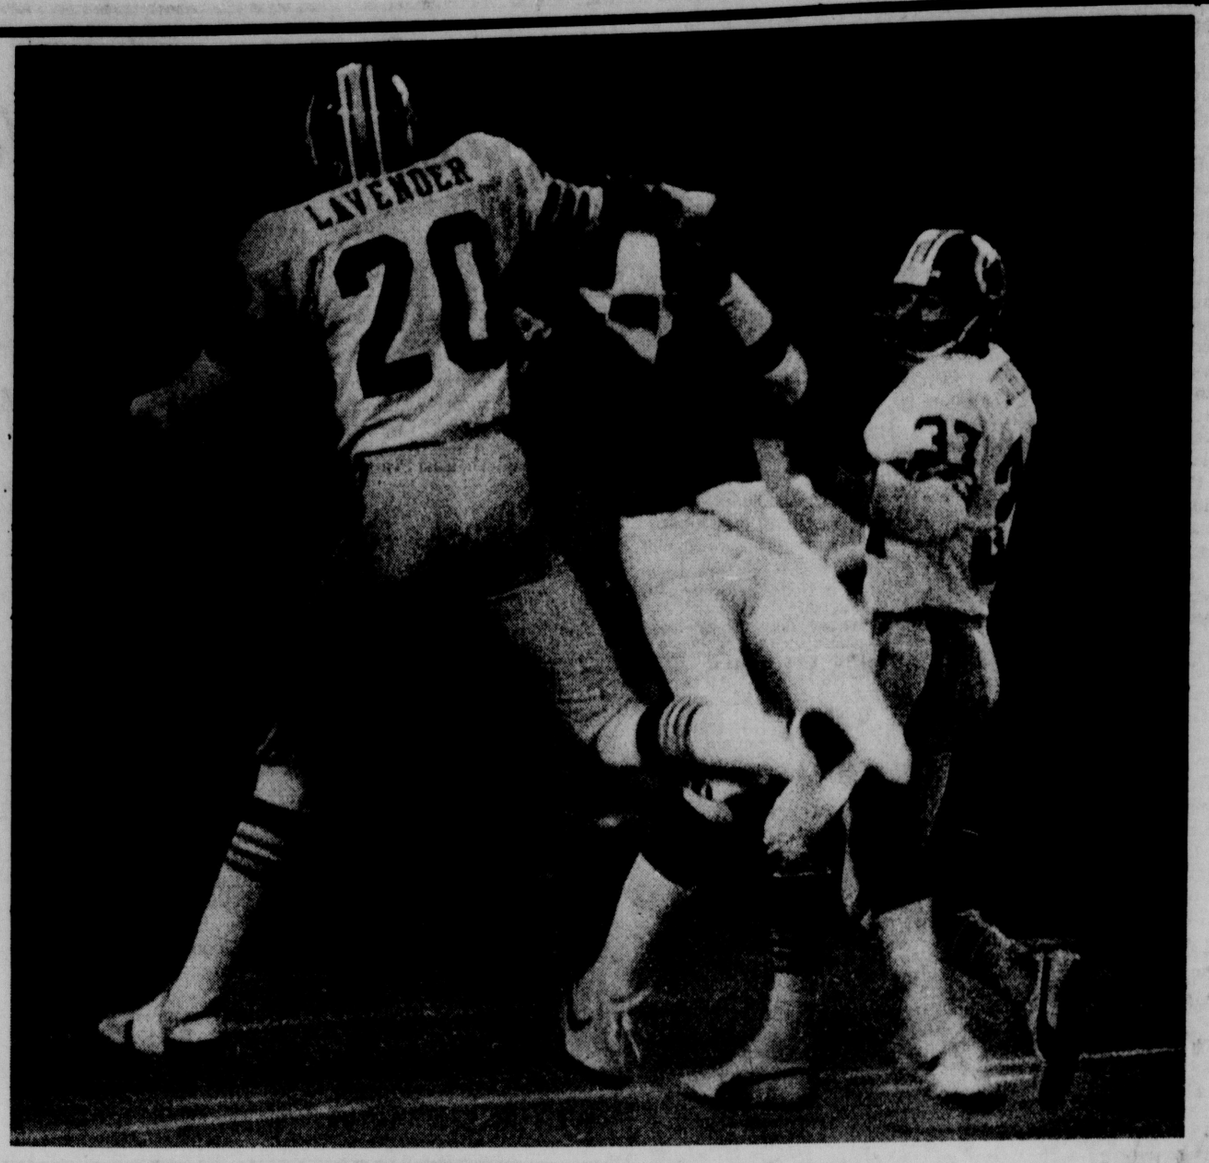

"We knew we had to control the ball because they have such an explosive offense," Thomas said.

The Redskins sacked Hart three times and Joe Lavender's interception of a deflected Hart pass with 3:59 to play ended St. Loui's first comeback attempt.

"We were getting pretty good protection," said Hart, who completed only nine of 32 passes. "The thing that killed us was the blitz, which we just didn't pick up."

Hart's longest completion was a 48-yard touchdown pass to Terry Metcalf in the first quarter. But Washington closed the gap with two field goals by Mark Moseley later in the half and went ahead on Thomas' 22-yard touchdown run at 6:13 of the third quarter.

Moseley kicked a 44-yard field goal at the start of the final period but was matched by a 40-yard boot by Jim Bakken, setting the stage for the Cardinals' belated last-minute rally.

The Lavender Blues

Washington defensive back Joe Lavender (20) gets more than just the football as he breaks up a pass intended for Cardinal Ike Harris during Sunday's game at St. Louis. Enjoying the one-sided action is Redskin Pat Fischer (37). The Redskins beat the Big Red 16-10.

'They are winners' Lohr says of team

By The Associated Press

If this was a rebuilding year for Southeast Missouri State, it was one of the most graceful ever seen in these parts.

Coach Jim Lohr's squad was supposed to have little more than hope for the future when the season began.

But now Southeast is tied with Northeast Missouri State at the top of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Indians closed out a 4-2 conference campaign Saturday with a 33-0 romp over Lincoln.

"We had a winnable combination," says Lohr. "And seven times this season, (Southeast's total victories) we used it right."

The combination included three factors: a strong kicking game, a quick, aggressive defense and the ability to play ball control offense.

"I've never coached a group of people who depended more on each other," said Lohr. "The only way we could win football games was that each part of the team did what it had to. If there was a breakdown in just one area, we were in trouble."

For the season, Southeast's opponents totaled more yardage than the Indians and until Saturday more points.

"The defense had to make the most of everything," Lohr said. "They were quick enough to recover, intercepted a lot of passes and caused a lot of fumbles."

"They are winners," Lohr added. "This was the third conference championship for some of these kids. They knew how to win and they never thought they were beaten until it was impossible for them to catch up. They knew exactly what they had to do."

Vikings clinch Central crown; Falcons rally to beat Dallas

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

"We had a chance to fail and we didn't." Those were the words of Coach Bud Grant, whose Minnesota Vikings beat the Green Bay Packers 17-10 and won the championship of the National Football Conference Central Division for the eighth time in nine years.

"This is only the first step." Those were the words of Coach John Madden, whose Oakland Raiders clubbed the Philadelphia Eagles 26-7 and clicnhed their fifth consecutive American Conference West title and their ninth divisional crown in 10 years.

They were expressions of slight relief, ones used by men who realized divisional championships mean little should their teams fall short of a trip to Pasadena for the Jan. 17 Super Bowl game.

"We've still got hope and we've still got a chance," said Washington Redskins Coach George Allen. "We've just got to keep it going and never let up."

"We win them or else we are out. We can't save anything," said Cleveland Browns Coach Forrest Gregg.

Those were the words of men who saw the chances slipping away for a chance to reach the playoffs.

Here is what is left of the divisional races, brought to you by the National Football League.

Allen's Redskins, who could have been eliminated by a loss, kept their playoff hopes alive in the National Conference East with a 16-10 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The victory, combined with Atlanta's 17-10 upset of Dallas, kept Washington within two games of the first-place Cowboys and one game of the Cardinals.

Gregg's Browns helped themselves in the American Conference Central, lashing the winless Tampa Bay Buccaneers 24-7 Sunday and remaining hopeful of the wild card slot for a playoff trip.

In the other divisional races, New England's Patriots inched within one-half game of the AFC East-leading Baltimore Colts — who visit the Miami Dolphins tonight — with a 38-24 victory over the New York Jets. Pittsburgh's surging Steelers kept pace with Cleveland at two games behind AFC Central-leading Cincinnati, ripping the Houston Oilers 32-16 for their sixth straight triumph.

The NFC West-leading Los Angeles Rams put down second-place San Francisco 23-3 and opened a 1½-game margin over the 49ers, who lost their fourth in a row.

Meanwhile, the Bengals nipped the Kansas City Chiefs 27-24, the San Diego Chargers pasted the Buffalo Bills 34-13, the Detroit Lions bested the Chicago Bears 14-10, the Denver Broncos clipped the New York Giants 14-13 and the New Orleans Saints blasted the Seattle Seahawks 51-27.

Vikings 17, Packers 10

Fran Tarkenton completed 23 of 43 passes for 180 yards and two touchdowns as the Vikings, 9-1-1, nailed down the crown against Green Bay, 4-7. His 11-yard pass to Ahmad Rashad in the fourth period broke a 10-10 tie.

Raiders 27, Eagles 7

Clarence Davis and Mark van Eeghen combined for 206 rushing yards and two touchdowns, lifting the Raiders to their seventh straight triumph and their 10th in 11 games. Philadelphia, 3-8, got its score on Roman Garbiel's 200th career touchdown pass.

Redskins 16, Cardinals 10

The Redskins, 7-4, got their only touchdown from Mike Thomas, who rushed 31 times for a team-record 195 yards. The other points came on Mark Moseley field goals.

"We didn't do the job," said Coach Don Coryell of St. Louis, 8-3.

Browns 24, Buccaneers 7

Forrest Gregg got his players in the right mood for a second-half surge with a tongue lashing of which defensive end Joe Jones said, "What we had isn't printable." But the results were: 17 second-half points against Tampa Bay, 0-11. Quarterback Brian Sipe hit veteran Paul Warfield for a 14-yard touchdown, breaking a 7-7 tie in the third period as the Browns improved their record to 7-4.

Falcons 17, Cowboys 10

"You got to make the plays to win, and we didn't," said Coach Tom Landry, who saw his Cowboys' NFC East lead trimmed by the Atlanta upset and now faces a game against St. Louis with just three days to prepare. The Falcons, 4-7, turned two pass interceptions and a short Dallas punt into 17 fourth-quarter points in beating the Cowboys, 9-2.

Patriots 38, Jets 24

New England, 8-3, intercepted seven passes and recovered three fumbles in blasting the Jets, 3-8. Prentice McCray picked off two of the passes and turned them into touchdowns of 63 and 55 yards. Steve Grogan threw three scoring passes for the Patriots.

Steelers 32, Oilers 16

Pittsburgh, 7-4, gave up a touchdown for the first time in six weeks — 22 quarters, when Houston's Ken Burrough hauled in a 69-yard touchdown pass from Dan Pastorini. Pittsburgh used a pair of scores by Reggie Harrison to hand Houston its sixth straight loss.

Rams 23, 49ers 3

The Rams, 7-3-1, managed eight first downs and three pass completions. But Jim Youngblood picked off two Jim Plunkett passes, and Monte Jackson — the NFL's interception leader — returned his 10th of the season 41 yards for a touchdown to embarrass San Francisco, 6-5.

Bengals 27, Chiefs 24

"We're not afraid of Pittsburgh. We're absolutely going to win," said the Bengals' Bob Trumpy of next week's clash with the Steelers. A triumph would clinch the division for Cincinnati, 9-2, which beat Kansas City on a one-yard Tony Davis plunge in the fourth quarter.

The Bengals lost five fumbles and an interception, and the Chiefs, 3-8, missed a chance to tie the game when a 46-yard Jan Stenerud field goal attempt went wide at 1:48 of the final period.

Chargers 34, Bills 13

San Diego, 5-6, snapped a four-game losing streak as Dan Fouts threw two touchdown passes and collected 198 yards on 19 completions against Buffalo, 2-9. The Bills' O.J. Simpson rushed for 118 yards on 25 carries and now has 856 yards for the season.

Ticket prices changed

Due to a misunderstanding of the contract between the Sikeston Math Club and the All-American Red Heads, the prices for tickets at the door which was quoted earlier was incorrect.

Asa Kinnaman, sponsor of the Math Club, said that prices at the door will be raised from $1.75 for students and $2.00 for adults to $2.00 for students and $2.50 for adults to meet minimum charges required by the Red Heads.

Prices for advance tickets remain the same. Students may purchase the tickets for $1.50, with the adult charge being $2.00. Tickets can be purchased from any Math Club member or at the high school.

Two players have been added to the roster of the Sikeston Teachers and Businessmen's team that hopes to hand the Red Heads one of their rare defeats.

Gary Owens of Sikes Sporting Goods, a former star at Scott Central and Three Rivers, will join the team, along with Terry Coleman, who represents Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Game time for the battle at the Sikeston High School Field House will be 8:00. Proceeds will go to the Math Club scholarship fund.

Dear Ann Landers...

Teens tell Ann the 'lines' they use

Dear Friends: Recently I asked my female teenage readers what "lines" the boys were using these days to break down their resistance. The response was staggering. Would you believe over 18,000 letters? To my surprise (although I should have learned long ago never to be surprised at what turns up on my desk) I received a handful of letters from boys telling me what "lines" the girls had used on THEM.

I received a few critical letters admonishing me for putting out a "how-to" list for beginners. "Young boys are plenty aggressive these days," wrote the mother of three daughters in Wheeling, West Virginia. "It's foolish to supply them with alternate 'lines' should theirs fail."

I hastened to inform "Wheeling mother" that the purpose of printing the "lines" was to wise up the naive and vulnerable who, too often, are snowed by cool cats on the make. Hopefully, if the girls see it in print, they will recognize it for what it is -- just a line. And a fairly standard one at that.

I promised to share my findings with you. Here they are:

Sharon, Pa.: "Come on. What are you afraid of? Don't be a baby. It's just part of growing up."

Louisville, Ky.: "If you really loved me you would. That's the way people express their true feelings. It's been going on since the world began."

Honolulu: "It's very painful for a guy to be in this condition and not get relief. You got me all heated up; now if you're any kind of a woman you'll take care of me."

Marshalltown, Iowa: "It will be good for your complexion. You should have seen my face before I did it. Honest, it's better than any medicine."

Carbondale, Ill.: "You're the most exciting chick I've ever met in my whole life. I have never wanted anybody the way I want you."

Fort Lauderdale: "Life is so uncertain. Who knows whether you'll be alive tomorrow? It would be awful if you died in an accident or something without experiencing the greatest thrill of all."

Mexico City: "You're awfully uptight. Sex is a great tension-breaker. It will make you feel relaxed."

Gatineau, Quebec: "I want to marry you someday. Now we have to find out if we are sexually compatible."

Rochester, N.Y.: "I've heard rumors that you're "lezzie.' If you aren't, prove it."

Nassau, The Bahamas: "I promise we won't go all the way unless you want to. We'll stop whenever you say."

Harrisburg, Pa.: "You have nothing to worry about. I'm sterile."

Toronto, Canada: "I know you want it as much as I do but you're afraid of your reputation. I swear I will never tell anybody. It will be our secret."

Shrewsbury, N.J.: "It isn't sex I'm after. I'm really in love with you. If you get pregnant I'll marry you right away."

Durham, N.C.: "You have the body of a woman. Mother Nature meant for you to have sex. You're ready for it."

Judges are selected for '77 Maid of Cotton

Menu prices on the rise but consumers still eat out

LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Americans are spending more money at restaurants these days, even though menu prices are rising at a much faster rate than the cost of food at home.

And at least one culinary expert indicates that consumers may not always be getting their money's worth.

The sales forecast comes from the National Restaurant Association; the criticism comes from Franz K. Lemoine, director of a Providence, R.I., school that trains would-be chefs.

The restaurant association predicted recently that sales for the food service industry as a whole — including everything from school cafeterias to fancy restaurants — would total $86.9 billion next year, up 10.6 per cent from 1976.

"Today, for every $100 that an American family uses to purchase food, around $34 is spent on food away from home -- one out of every three food dollars," said the association president, Patrick L. O'Malley. "By 1980, we feel confident that Americans will be spending two out of five dollars in our industry."

The biggest growth, said O'Malley, will be in fast-food establishments, "a segment (of the industry) which literally did not exist 20 years ago." The fast-food establishments now account for almost one-third of eating place sales and will increase 14.1 per cent next year, O'Malley said.

Menu prices in 1977 will rise an average of 6.5 per cent, a little less than this year's increase, according to the trade association.

Figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index show that the cost of food away from home rose 6.9 per cent from September 1975 to September 1976. The cost of food at home rose only 1 per cent in the same period. (The figures are not seasonally adjusted.)

Is the food worth the price?

Not always, says Lemoine, whose School of Culinary Arts at Johnson & Wales College claims to be the second largest culinary training institution in the nation.

Lemoine was critical of restaurants which offer frozen, pre-prepared and mass-marketed entrees at high prices. A filet of sole dish that is essentially the same thing you can buy for a couple dollars in the frozen food department of the grocery store may wind up on a restaurant menu for $8.50, he said.

The customer is as important as the kitchen staff in determining food quality, Lemoine said. "What makes food good is not trained chefs, but a discriminating public."

Lemoine said consumers can generally judge the quality of restaurant food before they taste a bite.

Among the things to look for: a well-lit dining room, no stale odor of food, tables arranged neatly with space between them, a menu that is in good condition without grease spots or ragged edges, an attractive table setting, friendly help and a clean rest room.

When it comes to the food itself, Lemoine said, hot food should be served hot on a hot plate; cold food should be cold. The plate should not be overcrowded; most restaurant food portions are "ridiculous," he said.

Area missionary league members attend workshop

Eighty persons representing 19 of the 30 member societies attended the Southeast Missouri Zone Lutheran Women's Missionary League's Christian Growth Workshop Nov. 15 at Christ Lutheran Church in Gordonville.

The morning presentation was given by Dr. James M. Drickey, professor of education and psychology at SeMo University. He spoke on "Daily Living From Eight to Eighty." Aging is a lifelong process and as we grow older we become more of what we really are. We should consider those vintage years instead of aging years and Dr. Drickey spoke about the disadvantages of aging and told ways of coping during this period.

Under the guidance guidance of the christian growth chairperson, Mrs. Elmer Palisch, time was devoted toward group study on creative projects that individual organizations can do. Helping with this were Mrs. Gene Crader, Mrs. Simon Heisserer, Mrs. Henry Wessel, Mrs. Oscar Gerken, Mrs. Norman Pruesser, Mrs. Robert Nussbaum, Mrs. A. H. Macke and Mrs. Lawrence Eatherton.

In the afternoon, a film entitled "Peegee" was viewed. The film dealt with a family visiting with their elderly relative in a nursing home. Mrs. Robert Knight, ACTION-RSVP representative for Scott County addressed the members. She spoke on "Aging And How To Make The Most of It." Her job is to recruit or motivate a senior citizen into community service using their individual talent. The Rev. Robert Daniel, zone counselor, conducted the devotions and led the group singing and Mrs. Gene Wachter was the organist.

Devils, Rams & Dogs top South elite

The three teams that battled it out for the Southern Division championship this season – Chaffee, Illmo-Scott City and Portageville-- dominated the voting for first team honors for the conference's all-star team last Wednesday night at Sikeston.

The Red Devils, who won the league championship after a tight race, placed six players on the first team, as did Illmo-Scott City. Portageville had five members selected to the team, while East Prairie was represented by four. Caruthersville and Malden had two each, where Doniphan and South Pemiscot were not represented on the first team.

The strong passing attacks of the Red Devils and the Rams were evident as they dominated the quarterback and end positions. Both Randy Horrell of Chaffee and Gary Springs of Illmo-Scott City were awarded first team quarterback honors as the coaches could not break a deadlock in the voting at that position. Don Kiefer of the Devils and Mike Carter of the Rams were voted to the end positions.

Tackle Phillip Christian and guard Brian Essary of Portageville gave the Bulldogs two first-teamers on the offensive line. Rounding out the front five were center Trae Haytden of Caruthersville, tackle Billy McIntosh of East Prairie and guard Brian Glastetter of Chaffee.

The running backs were Danny Johnson of East Prairie, David Ellington of Portageville and Jim Kilgore of Malden .

Chaffee's Glastetter and Scott City's Carter were the only players to make the first team on both offense and defense. Both were honored at the linebacker position, as was Caruthersville's Steve Johnson.

Three Illmo-Scott City players were chosen for the six-man defensive line. Joining defensive end Farron King, tackle Keith Weisenborn and guard Kevin Gentry of the Rams were defensive end Leroy Bollinger of Chaffee, tackle Steve Enderle of Chaffee and guard Billy Douglas of Portageville.

Ken Ruiz of Chaffee and Kevin Meek of Caruthersville were the first team defensive backs. A pair of East Prairie players were picked as kicking specialists -- place kicker Terry Wheatley and punter Terry Greet.

Portageville's Jim McKay was voted Southern Division Coach of the Year.

Colorado's Orange Bowl hopes depend on Husker-Sooner game

By DOUG TUCKER
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The towering Rocky Mountains will be dwarfed between now and Friday evening by the high hopes of Bill Mallory and his Colorado football players.

If Oklahoma beats Nebraska Friday in their Big Eight Conference finale at Lincoln, then Colorado goes to the Orange Bowl. It's as simple as that.

Saturday the Buffaloes eked out a surprisingly tough 35-28 victory over Kansas State to finish the conference season at 5-2, tied with Oklahoma State and the winner of the OU-NU clash for the conference title.

Under a plan devised last week by the Orange Bowl Committee, Colorado gets the invitation to Miami New Year's night in the event of an Oklahoma triumph because the Buffs beat the Cowboys and Sooners earlier.

"I'm darned happy to have a part of the championship and have a chance at the Orange Bowl," said the exuberant Mallory, who took the Colorado reins three years ago.

"We had to battle week in and week out. We played seven Big Eight teams and we never played a bad one."

Oklahoma State, gained its first share of the Big Eight crown in its history by turning aside Iowa State, 42-21. In the other league game, Kansas shocked favored Missouri, 41-14.

With Nebraska and Oklahoma at 4-2, still to play, the final conference standings are: Colorado and Oklahoma State, 5-2; Iowa State 4-3, Missouri 3-4, Kansas 2-5 and Kansas State 0-7 for the second straight year.

Oklahoma accepted a bid Saturday night to play Wyoming in the Fiesta Bowl Christmas Day.

Iowa State, 8-3 for the year, set up two Oklahoma State touchdowns with fumbles inside its own 10-yard line and coach Earle Bruce said, "The name of the game is turnovers."

Terry Miller, the Cowboys' junior running back star, gained 199 of his team's 285 rushing yards and scored his 15th and 16th touchdowns of the year, a school record.

"Our offensive line played real well," said coach Jim Stanley. "And so did Terry Miller."

Kansas State, 1-10 for its miserable year, gained a season high in first downs and points and was not eliminated until the Buffs intercepted a pass with less than a minute to go. Afterward, some of the K-State players were less than impressed.

"They were good," said linebacker Gary Spani, who totaled 24 tackles. "But if they go to the Orange Bowl it might be bad for the Big Eight."

"They're explosive enough on offense," said defensive tackle Mike Osborne. "I don't know about their defense. I question it a little bit."

"I was scared until the whole dadgum game was over," said Mallory.

"Yeah, they did have us on the ropes a little, didn't they," said defensive back Mike Davis, who made the crucial interception.

"But we just had to get control of ourselves and the situation and try to stop them. Heck, after 14 weeks of preparation a team could win it or lose it in one day."

Kansas fans who trekked to Columbia and watched the Jayhawks ambush Missouri may have witnessed a new star arrive, sophomore quarterback Mark Vicendese. The fourth signal caller tried since Nolan Cromwell went out with knee surgery, Vicendese gained 111 yards rushing and generally guided the wishbone with an expertise not really expected of him.

"Because of the circumstances this is probably our best victory since I've been here," said second-year KU coach Bud Moore. "We've had a great deal of adversity."

The Jayhawks and Tigers both finished 6-5, Moore happily and AL Onofrio, Missouri coach, most unhappily.

It was indeed a bizarre season for the Tigers, who could have had an invitation to the Sun Bowl by beating Kansas. Their victories included triumphs over Southern Cal, Ohio State, Nebraska and Colorado. After it became apparent that a rout had been ordained, disgruntled cries went up among the crowd of 62,000-plus.

"Goodbye, Al, we hate to see you go," sung the fans in the south end zone. Onofrio was asked if he felt any must-win pressure.

"There's prssure after every football game," he said. "When you lose it isn't good and when you win it's great. I've tried to keep it all in perspective," he added. "I've tried to get not too high when we win and not too low when we lose."

Several players came to their coach's defense.

"All of that stuff makes me mad," said senior offensive tackle Morris Towns. "Every place we've been I've never heard the home team booed. It just kept getting worse.

Three Rivers places second

UNION, Mo. -- The Three Rivers Community College Raiders of Poplar Bluff ran out of surprises Saturday night in the finals of the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference Tournament, losing to host East Center Junior College of Union 99-77.

The Raiders had upset pretournament favorite Forest Park and Belleville, Ill. on Thursday night and Friday night, but were blown out in the first half against Union. The hosts rode the play of 6-5 Derek Ferguson and 6-7 Dave Cochran to a big 55-32 halftime lead and coasted during the second half.

"They're probably the two best big men in the conference," Three Rivers coach Gene Bess said about Ferguson and Cochran. Ferguson burned the nets for 30 points and Cochran added 22.

For TRCC, the big man was "Super-Sub" Steve Glenn of New Madrid. The Raiders' sophomore sparkplug has averaged 15½ points per game in a reserve role, coming off the bench four times in four games to score in double figures. The 6-4 forward enjoyed his biggest night of the year Saturday evening by firing in 21 points.

The Raiders had reached the tournament finals by ripping conference favorite Forest Park 82-66 Thursday and then nipping Belleville, Ill., on Friday, 78-73.

Danny Foster scored 17 of his game-high 19 points in the first half against Forest Park as the Raiders raced to a ten point, 45-35, lead. Teammates Jimmy Dixon and John Carr each added 16. "Super-sub" Steve Glenn came off the bench to pop in 11.

Forest Park, never in the game, was led by Kenslow Scales' 13 points.

Friday the Raiders trailed almost all of the way before a Jimmy Dixon dunk shot inspired them to victory. Belleville led by two buckets, 40-36, at intermission and held the lead most of the second half. TRCC finally pushed into a tie with 5:44 left, then went ahead with a minute to go, 74-73. Belleville's Tom Brinkman was passing the ball upcourt when the 6-4 Dixon slipped in, intercepted the toss and dunked the ball with both hands. With seven seconds to go, Foster ripped the cords with the clincher.

Dixon topped all scorers with 28 points. Glenn came off the bench again to lead the team in rebounds with 13 and score 12 points.

I did it!

Gary Hammond of the St. Louis Cardinals gives the ball a jubilant flip into the air after recovering a fumbled punt in Washington territory. The recovery set up a Jim Bakken field goal that brought the Cardinals within striking range of the Redskins at 16-10, but the score reamined that way.

Odds catch up with Cardinals, Redskins win 16-10 thriller

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The clock finally struck at midnight for those masters of the Cinderella finish — the St. Louis Cardinals.

Sounding the knell was the Washington Redskins, who withstood two of St. Louis' patented come-from-behind attempts in the final five minutes to capture a 16-10 victory Sunday and remain alive for a berth in the National Football League playoffs.

Mike Thomas, a second-year running back, inflicted the most severe damage on the Cardinals, who had won their past three games in the final minutes.

The 190-pound Thomas rushed for a team record of 195 yards in 31 attempts and scored Washington's only touchdown.

"You can't catch 'em all, you can't win 'em all. We were bound to lose one like that — one day," said Cardinal quarterback Jim Hart, whose pass to wide receiver Mel Gray was dopped in the end zone with 40seconds to play.

Gray had two steps on the nearest Redskin defender but couldn't hang on, and after a fourth-down pass was overthrown, Washington ran out the clock.

"Right now, it's the biggest win we've had in six years," said Redskins Coach George Allen.

Washington, which would have been eliminated from the playoffs with a loss, carries a 7-4 record into its final three games, including a meeting with NFC East-leading Dallas.

The Redskins virtually must win all three to make the playoffs, while St. Louis has to capture two of its three remaining games in a schedule that begins with Dallas on Thanksgiving Day and includes AFC East-leading Baltimore. The Cardinals, 8-3, are a game behind the Cowboys.

"A victory would have saved quite a bit of pressure," St. Louis Coach Don Coryell said. "It still came down to the point where we didn't come through in the clutch. In the other games, we did that."

The pressure placed by Redskin defenders on Hart and the running attack of Thomas and John Riggins hurt the Cardinals most.

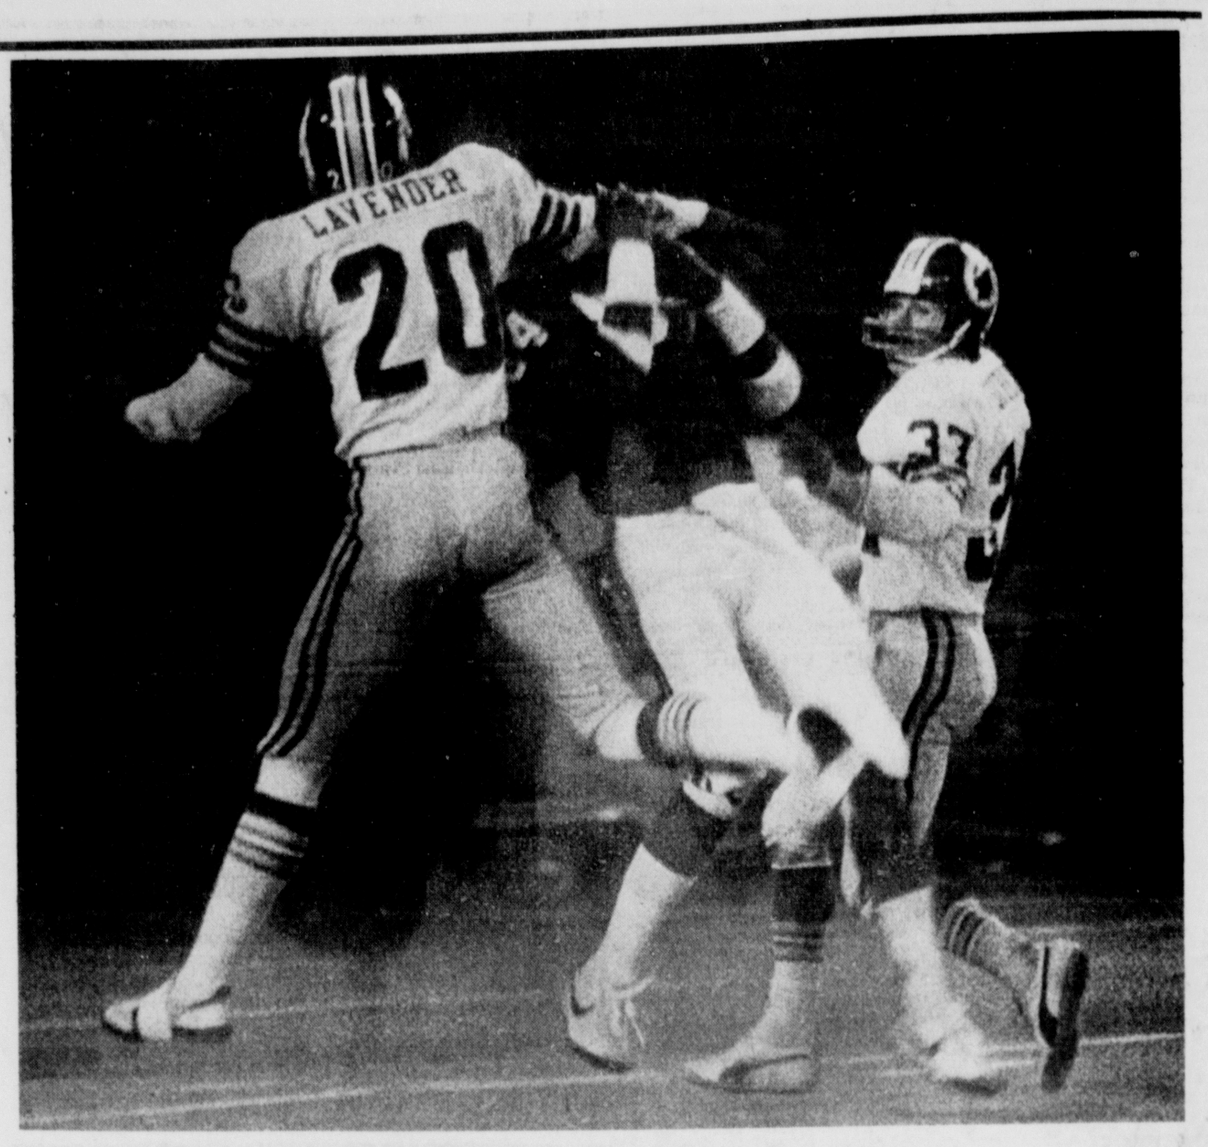

"We knew we had to control the ball because they have such an explosive offense," Thomas said.

The Redskins sacked Hart three times and Joe Lavender's interception of a deflected Hart pass with 3:59 to play ended St. Loui's first comeback attempt.

"We were getting pretty good protection," said Hart, who completed only nine of 32 passes. "The thing that killed us was the blitz, which we just didn't pick up."

Hart's longest completion was a 48-yard touchdown pass to Terry Metcalf in the first quarter. But Washington closed the gap with two field goals by Mark Moseley later in the half and went ahead on Thomas' 22-yard touchdown run at 6:13 of the third quarter.

Moseley kicked a 44-yard field goal at the start of the final period but was matched by a 40-yard boot by Jim Bakken, setting the stage for the Cardinals' belated last-minute rally.

The Lavender Blues

Washington defensive back Joe Lavender (20) gets more than just the football as he breaks up a pass intended for Cardinal Ike Harris during Sunday's game at St. Louis. Enjoying the one-sided action is Redskin Pat Fischer (37). The Redskins beat the Big Red 16-10.

Top 20 teams open cage play this week

By KEN RAPPOPORT

All but four of the nation's Top Twenty college basketball teams start shooting this week.

The Big Four Tournament at Greensboro, N.C., on Friday night, highlighted by a game between third-ranked North Carolina and No. 15 North Carolina State, precipitates a landslide of games involving the country's basketball royalty.

The college basketball season opened Sunday with a token number of unimportant games. By next Saturday, such teams as top-ranked Michigan, third-rated North Carolina, fourth-ranked UCLA and fifth-ranked Indiana, the defending national champion, will see action.

'They are winners' Lohr says of team

By The Associated Press

If this was a rebuilding year for Southeast Missouri State, it was one of the most graceful ever seen in these parts.

Coach Jim Lohr's squad was supposed to have little more than hope for the future when the season began.

But now Southeast is tied with Northeast Missouri State at the top of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Indians closed out a 4-2 conference campaign Saturday with a 33-0 romp over Lincoln.

"We had a winnable combination," says Lohr. "And seven times this season, (Southeast's total victories) we used it right."

The combination included three factors: a strong kicking game, a quick, aggressive defense and the ability to play ball control offense.

"I've never coached a group of people who depended more on each other," said Lohr. "The only way we could win football games was that each part of the team did what it had to. If there was a breakdown in just one area, we were in trouble."

For the season, Southeast's opponents totaled more yardage than the Indians and until Saturday more points.

"The defense had to make the most of everything," Lohr said. "They were quick enough to recover, intercepted a lot of passes and caused a lot of fumbles."

"They are winners," Lohr added. "This was the third conference championship for some of these kids. They knew how to win and they never thought they were beaten until it was impossible for them to catch up. They knew exactly what they had to do."

Vikings clinch Central crown; Falcons rally to beat Dallas

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

"We had a chance to fail and we didn't." Those were the words of Coach Bud Grant, whose Minnesota Vikings beat the Green Bay Packers 17-10 and won the championship of the National Football Conference Central Division for the eighth time in nine years.

"This is only the first step." Those were the words of Coach John Madden, whose Oakland Raiders clubbed the Philadelphia Eagles 26-7 and clicnhed their fifth consecutive American Conference West title and their ninth divisional crown in 10 years.

They were expressions of slight relief, ones used by men who realized divisional championships mean little should their teams fall short of a trip to Pasadena for the Jan. 17 Super Bowl game.

"We've still got hope and we've still got a chance," said Washington Redskins Coach George Allen. "We've just got to keep it going and never let up."

"We win them or else we are out. We can't save anything," said Cleveland Browns Coach Forrest Gregg.

Those were the words of men who saw the chances slipping away for a chance to reach the playoffs.

Here is what is left of the divisional races, brought to you by the National Football League.

Allen's Redskins, who could have been eliminated by a loss, kept their playoff hopes alive in the National Conference East with a 16-10 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The victory, combined with Atlanta's 17-10 upset of Dallas, kept Washington within two games of the first-place Cowboys and one game of the Cardinals.

Gregg's Browns helped themselves in the American Conference Central, lashing the winless Tampa Bay Buccaneers 24-7 Sunday and remaining hopeful of the wild card slot for a playoff trip.

In the other divisional races, New England's Patriots inched within one-half game of the AFC East-leading Baltimore Colts — who visit the Miami Dolphins tonight — with a 38-24 victory over the New York Jets. Pittsburgh's surging Steelers kept pace with Cleveland at two games behind AFC Central-leading Cincinnati, ripping the Houston Oilers 32-16 for their sixth straight triumph.

The NFC West-leading Los Angeles Rams put down second-place San Francisco 23-3 and opened a 1½-game margin over the 49ers, who lost their fourth in a row.

Meanwhile, the Bengals nipped the Kansas City Chiefs 27-24, the San Diego Chargers pasted the Buffalo Bills 34-13, the Detroit Lions bested the Chicago Bears 14-10, the Denver Broncos clipped the New York Giants 14-13 and the New Orleans Saints blasted the Seattle Seahawks 51-27.

Vikings 17, Packers 10

Fran Tarkenton completed 23 of 43 passes for 180 yards and two touchdowns as the Vikings, 9-1-1, nailed down the crown against Green Bay, 4-7. His 11-yard pass to Ahmad Rashad in the fourth period broke a 10-10 tie.

Raiders 27, Eagles 7

Clarence Davis and Mark van Eeghen combined for 206 rushing yards and two touchdowns, lifting the Raiders to their seventh straight triumph and their 10th in 11 games. Philadelphia, 3-8, got its score on Roman Garbiel's 200th career touchdown pass.

Redskins 16, Cardinals 10

The Redskins, 7-4, got their only touchdown from Mike Thomas, who rushed 31 times for a team-record 195 yards. The other points came on Mark Moseley field goals.

"We didn't do the job," said Coach Don Coryell of St. Louis, 8-3.

Browns 24, Buccaneers 7

Forrest Gregg got his players in the right mood for a second-half surge with a tongue lashing of which defensive end Joe Jones said, "What we had isn't printable." But the results were: 17 second-half points against Tampa Bay, 0-11. Quarterback Brian Sipe hit veteran Paul Warfield for a 14-yard touchdown, breaking a 7-7 tie in the third period as the Browns improved their record to 7-4.

Falcons 17, Cowboys 10

"You got to make the plays to win, and we didn't," said Coach Tom Landry, who saw his Cowboys' NFC East lead trimmed by the Atlanta upset and now faces a game against St. Louis with just three days to prepare. The Falcons, 4-7, turned two pass interceptions and a short Dallas punt into 17 fourth-quarter points in beating the Cowboys, 9-2.

Patriots 38, Jets 24

New England, 8-3, intercepted seven passes and recovered three fumbles in blasting the Jets, 3-8. Prentice McCray picked off two of the passes and turned them into touchdowns of 63 and 55 yards. Steve Grogan threw three scoring passes for the Patriots.

Steelers 32, Oilers 16

Pittsburgh, 7-4, gave up a touchdown for the first time in six weeks — 22 quarters, when Houston's Ken Burrough hauled in a 69-yard touchdown pass from Dan Pastorini. Pittsburgh used a pair of scores by Reggie Harrison to hand Houston its sixth straight loss.

Rams 23, 49ers 3

The Rams, 7-3-1, managed eight first downs and three pass completions. But Jim Youngblood picked off two Jim Plunkett passes, and Monte Jackson — the NFL's interception leader — returned his 10th of the season 41 yards for a touchdown to embarrass San Francisco, 6-5.

Bengals 27, Chiefs 24

"We're not afraid of Pittsburgh. We're absolutely going to win," said the Bengals' Bob Trumpy of next week's clash with the Steelers. A triumph would clinch the division for Cincinnati, 9-2, which beat Kansas City on a one-yard Tony Davis plunge in the fourth quarter.

The Bengals lost five fumbles and an interception, and the Chiefs, 3-8, missed a chance to tie the game when a 46-yard Jan Stenerud field goal attempt went wide at 1:48 of the final period.

Chargers 34, Bills 13

San Diego, 5-6, snapped a four-game losing streak as Dan Fouts threw two touchdown passes and collected 198 yards on 19 completions against Buffalo, 2-9. The Bills' O.J. Simpson rushed for 118 yards on 25 carries and now has 856 yards for the season.

Ticket prices changed

Due to a misunderstanding of the contract between the Sikeston Math Club and the All-American Red Heads, the prices for tickets at the door which was quoted earlier was incorrect.

Asa Kinnaman, sponsor of the Math Club, said that prices at the door will be raised from $1.75 for students and $2.00 for adults to $2.00 for students and $2.50 for adults to meet minimum charges required by the Red Heads.

Prices for advance tickets remain the same. Students may purchase the tickets for $1.50, with the adult charge being $2.00. Tickets can be purchased from any Math Club member or at the high school.

Two players have been added to the roster of the Sikeston Teachers and Businessmen's team that hopes to hand the Red Heads one of their rare defeats.

Gary Owens of Sikes Sporting Goods, a former star at Scott Central and Three Rivers, will join the team, along with Terry Coleman, who represents Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Game time for the battle at the Sikeston High School Field House will be 8:00. Proceeds will go to the Math Club scholarship fund.

Devils, Rams & Dogs top South elite

The three teams that battled it out for the Southern Division championship this season – Chaffee, Illmo-Scott City and Portageville-- dominated the voting for first team honors for the conference's all-star team last Wednesday night at Sikeston.

The Red Devils, who won the league championship after a tight race, placed six players on the first team, as did Illmo-Scott City. Portageville had five members selected to the team, while East Prairie was represented by four. Caruthersville and Malden had two each, where Doniphan and South Pemiscot were not represented on the first team.

The strong passing attacks of the Red Devils and the Rams were evident as they dominated the quarterback and end positions. Both Randy Horrell of Chaffee and Gary Springs of Illmo-Scott City were awarded first team quarterback honors as the coaches could not break a deadlock in the voting at that position. Don Kiefer of the Devils and Mike Carter of the Rams were voted to the end positions.

Tackle Phillip Christian and guard Brian Essary of Portageville gave the Bulldogs two first-teamers on the offensive line. Rounding out the front five were center Trae Haytden of Caruthersville, tackle Billy McIntosh of East Prairie and guard Brian Glastetter of Chaffee.

The running backs were Danny Johnson of East Prairie, David Ellington of Portageville and Jim Kilgore of Malden .

Chaffee's Glastetter and Scott City's Carter were the only players to make the first team on both offense and defense. Both were honored at the linebacker position, as was Caruthersville's Steve Johnson.

Three Illmo-Scott City players were chosen for the six-man defensive line. Joining defensive end Farron King, tackle Keith Weisenborn and guard Kevin Gentry of the Rams were defensive end Leroy Bollinger of Chaffee, tackle Steve Enderle of Chaffee and guard Billy Douglas of Portageville.

Ken Ruiz of Chaffee and Kevin Meek of Caruthersville were the first team defensive backs. A pair of East Prairie players were picked as kicking specialists -- place kicker Terry Wheatley and punter Terry Greet.

Portageville's Jim McKay was voted Southern Division Coach of the Year.

Colorado's Orange Bowl hopes depend on Husker-Sooner game

By DOUG TUCKER
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The towering Rocky Mountains will be dwarfed between now and Friday evening by the high hopes of Bill Mallory and his Colorado football players.

If Oklahoma beats Nebraska Friday in their Big Eight Conference finale at Lincoln, then Colorado goes to the Orange Bowl. It's as simple as that.

Saturday the Buffaloes eked out a surprisingly tough 35-28 victory over Kansas State to finish the conference season at 5-2, tied with Oklahoma State and the winner of the OU-NU clash for the conference title.

Under a plan devised last week by the Orange Bowl Committee, Colorado gets the invitation to Miami New Year's night in the event of an Oklahoma triumph because the Buffs beat the Cowboys and Sooners earlier.

"I'm darned happy to have a part of the championship and have a chance at the Orange Bowl," said the exuberant Mallory, who took the Colorado reins three years ago.

"We had to battle week in and week out. We played seven Big Eight teams and we never played a bad one."

Oklahoma State, gained its first share of the Big Eight crown in its history by turning aside Iowa State, 42-21. In the other league game, Kansas shocked favored Missouri, 41-14.

With Nebraska and Oklahoma at 4-2, still to play, the final conference standings are: Colorado and Oklahoma State, 5-2; Iowa State 4-3, Missouri 3-4, Kansas 2-5 and Kansas State 0-7 for the second straight year.

Oklahoma accepted a bid Saturday night to play Wyoming in the Fiesta Bowl Christmas Day.

Iowa State, 8-3 for the year, set up two Oklahoma State touchdowns with fumbles inside its own 10-yard line and coach Earle Bruce said, "The name of the game is turnovers."

Terry Miller, the Cowboys' junior running back star, gained 199 of his team's 285 rushing yards and scored his 15th and 16th touchdowns of the year, a school record.

"Our offensive line played real well," said coach Jim Stanley. "And so did Terry Miller."

Kansas State, 1-10 for its miserable year, gained a season high in first downs and points and was not eliminated until the Buffs intercepted a pass with less than a minute to go. Afterward, some of the K-State players were less than impressed.

"They were good," said linebacker Gary Spani, who totaled 24 tackles. "But if they go to the Orange Bowl it might be bad for the Big Eight."

"They're explosive enough on offense," said defensive tackle Mike Osborne. "I don't know about their defense. I question it a little bit."

"I was scared until the whole dadgum game was over," said Mallory.

"Yeah, they did have us on the ropes a little, didn't they," said defensive back Mike Davis, who made the crucial interception.

"But we just had to get control of ourselves and the situation and try to stop them. Heck, after 14 weeks of preparation a team could win it or lose it in one day."

Kansas fans who trekked to Columbia and watched the Jayhawks ambush Missouri may have witnessed a new star arrive, sophomore quarterback Mark Vicendese. The fourth signal caller tried since Nolan Cromwell went out with knee surgery, Vicendese gained 111 yards rushing and generally guided the wishbone with an expertise not really expected of him.

"Because of the circumstances this is probably our best victory since I've been here," said second-year KU coach Bud Moore. "We've had a great deal of adversity."

The Jayhawks and Tigers both finished 6-5, Moore happily and AL Onofrio, Missouri coach, most unhappily.

It was indeed a bizarre season for the Tigers, who could have had an invitation to the Sun Bowl by beating Kansas. Their victories included triumphs over Southern Cal, Ohio State, Nebraska and Colorado. After it became apparent that a rout had been ordained, disgruntled cries went up among the crowd of 62,000-plus.

"Goodbye, Al, we hate to see you go," sung the fans in the south end zone. Onofrio was asked if he felt any must-win pressure.

"There's prssure after every football game," he said. "When you lose it isn't good and when you win it's great. I've tried to keep it all in perspective," he added. "I've tried to get not too high when we win and not too low when we lose."

Several players came to their coach's defense.

"All of that stuff makes me mad," said senior offensive tackle Morris Towns. "Every place we've been I've never heard the home team booed. It just kept getting worse.

Three Rivers places second

UNION, Mo. – The Three Rivers Community College Raiders of Poplar Bluff ran out of surprises Saturday night in the finals of the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference Tournament, losing to host East Center Junior College of Union 99-77.

The Raiders had upset pretournament favorite Forest Park and Belleville, Ill. on Thursday night and Friday night, but were blown out in the first half against Union. The hosts rode the play of 6-5 Derek Ferguson and 6-7 Dave Cochran to a big 55-32 halftime lead and coasted during the second half.

"They're probably the two best big men in the conference," Three Rivers coach Gene Bess said about Ferguson and Cochran. Ferguson burned the nets for 30 points and Cochran added 22.

For TRCC, the big man was "Super-Sub" Steve Glenn of New Madrid. The Raiders' sophomore sparkplug has averaged 15½ points per game in a reserve role, coming off the bench four times in four games to score in double figures. The 6-4 forward enjoyed his biggest night of the year Saturday evening by firing in 21 points.

The Raiders had reached the tournament finals by ripping conference favorite Forest Park 82-66 Thursday and then nipping Belleville, Ill., on Friday, 78-73.

Danny Foster scored 17 of his game-high 19 points in the first half against Forest Park as the Raiders raced to a ten point, 45-35, lead. Teammates Jimmy Dixon and John Carr each added 16. "Super-sub" Steve Glenn came off the bench to pop in 11.

Forest Park, never in the game, was led by Kenslow Scales' 13 points.

Friday the Raiders trailed almost all of the way before a Jimmy Dixon dunk shot inspired them to victory. Belleville led by two buckets, 40-36, at intermission and held the lead most of the second half. TRCC finally pushed into a tie with 5:44 left, then went ahead with a minute to go, 74-73. Belleville's Tom Brinkman was passing the ball upcourt when the 6-4 Dixon slipped in, intercepted the toss and dunked the ball with both hands. With seven seconds to go, Foster ripped the cords with the clincher.

Dixon topped all scorers with 28 points. Glenn came off the bench again to lead the team in rebounds with 13 and score 12 points.

I did it!

Gary Hammond of the St. Louis Cardinals gives the ball a jubilant flip into the air after recovering a fumbled punt in Washington territory. The recovery set up a Jim Bakken field goal that brought the Cardinals within striking range of the Redskins at 16-10, but the score reamined that way.

1. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Russell Long who was killed in a car accident on Nov. 22, 1963.
Should you go first & I remain
To walk the road alone
I'll live in memory's garden, Dear,
with happy day's we've known
In spring I'll wait for roses red,
when fades the lilac blue.
In early Fall, when brown leaves fall
I'll catch a glimpse of you.

Should you go first & I remain
For battles to be fought,
Each thing you've touched along the way
will be a hallowed spot
I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile,
Though blindly I may grope
The memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope

Should you go first and I remain
To finish with the scroll,
No lengthing shadows shall creep in
To make life seem droll
We've known so much happiness
We've had our cup of joy.
And memory is one gift of God
That death can not destroy.

Should you go first and I remain
One thing I'd have you do,
Walk slowly down the path of death
For soon I'll follow you
I'll want to know each step you take
That I may walk the same
For some day down that lonely road
You'll hear me call your name.
Sadly missed by wife

1. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Russell Long who was killed in a car accident on Nov. 22, 1963.
Should you go first & I remain
To walk the road alone
I'll live in memory's garden, Dear,
with happy day's we've known
In spring I'll wait for roses red,
when fades the lilac blue.
In early Fall, when brown leaves fall
I'll catch a glimpse of you.

Should you go first & I remain
For battles to be fought,
Each thing you've touched along the way
will be a hallowed spot
I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile,
Though blindly I may grope
The memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope

Should you go first and I remain
To finish with the scroll,
No lengthing shadows shall creep in
To make life seem droll
We've known so much happiness
We've had our cup of joy.
And memory is one gift of God
That death can not destroy.

Should you go first and I remain
One thing I'd have you do,
Walk slowly down the path of death
For soon I'll follow you
I'll want to know each step you take
That I may walk the same
For some day down that lonely road
You'll hear me call your name.
Sadly missed by wife
children

1. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Russell Long who was killed in a car accident on Nov. 22, 1963.
Should you go first & I remain
To walk the road alone
I'll live in memory's garden, Dear,
with happy day's we've known
In spring I'll wait for roses red,
when fades the lilac blue.
In early Fall, when brown leaves fall
I'll catch a glimpse of you.

Should you go first & I remain
For battles to be fought,
Each thing you've touched along the way
will be a hallowed spot
I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile,
Though blindly I may grope
The memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope

Should you go first and I remain
To finish with the scroll,
No lengthing shadows shall creep in
To make life seem droll
We've known so much happiness
We've had our cup of joy.
And memory is one gift of God
That death can not destroy.

Should you go first and I remain
One thing I'd have you do,
Walk slowly down the path of death
For soon I'll follow you
I'll want to know each step you take
That I may walk the same
For some day down that lonely road
You'll hear me call your name.
Sadly missed by wife
Delours, Evelyn, Jim & Linda.

Today in U.S. history

By the Associated Press

Today is Monday, Nov. 22, the 327th day of 1976. There are 39 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1963, President John Kennedy was assassinated as he rode in a motorcade in Dallas.

On this date →

In 1643, the French explorer Robert de la Salle was born.

In 1890, the late French President Charles de Gaulle was born in Lille, France.

In 1906, the SOS signal for ships in distress was adopted by an international convention in Berlin.

In 1943, a wartime conference was held in Cairo by President Franklin Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

In 1969, the Apollo 12 astronauts made a safe splashdown in the Pacific after America's second manned landing on the moon.

In 1972, President Richard Nixon lifted a 22-year ban on travel to Communist China.

Five years ago: The U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that arbitrary discrimination against women was unconstitutional.

One year ago: Juan Carlos de Borbon was proclaimed King Juan Carlos I of Spain.

Today's birthdays: Songwriter Hoagy Carmichael is 77. Heiress Doris Duke is 64.

Thought for today: There was never yet a philosopher who could endure the toothache patiently. — William Shakespeare, 1564-1616.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Pennsylvania Council of Safety warned that the British, after their successful military operations in New York and at Fort Lee, N.J., might move on Philadelphia, where the Continental Congress was directing the American Revolution.

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Debris from a Chinese nuclear explosion, leaving a windblown, invisible trail of radioactive material across the United States, is now winding across the Atlantic Ocean on its way around the earth. The leading edge of the immense cloud of radioactive debris completed a journey across the United States on Sunday, but government experts insisted there was no danger, even in areas where rain washed the material to the earth.

NATIONAL

NEW YORK (AP) — Hospital officials say they expect some deaths among the 55 workers injured when an explosion ripped through four floors of the American Chicle gum factory, spewing steel, concrete and molten gum into the street. One fireman on the scene said "It was a miracle" that none of the 150 people working the all-night shift was killed immediately by the blast early Sunday. Witnesses said the force of the explosion hurled some victims to the street. About 25 persons were burned severely.

Actress marries parts maker

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actress Marisa Schiaparelli Berenson, 28, married aircraft parts maker James Randall, 33, then left immediately for an unknown honeymoon location.

"Nobody's going to know where they will go on their honeymoon," a spokesman said after the ceremony Sunday. "Marisa doesn't even know. Jim has it all planned." He said they will be gone up to 10 days.

About 500 to 600 guests at Randall's home saw Miss Berenson married in a white dress created by designer Valentino.

The granddaughter of designer Elsa Schiaparelli and daughter of diplomat Robert Berenson has appeared in "Death in Venice," "Cabaret," "Casanova and Company" and "Barry Lyndon."

Tina arrested for weapon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pop Singer Tina Turner must appear Dec. 8 in Beverly Hills Municipal Court to answer a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Miss Turner, who performs with her husband Ike, was arrested Saturday after an officer who stopped her for a traffic violation spotted a .38-caliber revolver in her purse, sheriff's deputies said.

She was released after being booked.

Widow files suit against NBC

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — The second wife of Dr. Sam Sheppard has filed a $10 million lawsuit against the NBC television network for its dramatization of Sheppard's murder trials.

A similar suit was filed last week by Sheppard's sons.

Ariane Sheppard, who married Sheppard in 1964 when he was in prison for killing his first wife, charges that the television film "Guilty or Innocent: The Sam Sheppard Case" referred to her relationship with Sheppard as "one of fornication and convenience."

The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., woman claims the film suggested she was responsible for the divorce in 1969 and says it invaded her privacy, defamed her and intentionally inflicted emotional distress.

Bid of a sword

NEW YORK (AP) — Count Rene of Chambrun, a direct descendant of the Marquis de Lafayette, outbid the Smithsonian Institution to wi8 possession of a sword presented to Lafayette in 1779 by the American Continental Congress.

The count, a Paris attorney, paid $145,000 for the sword. The Smithsonian dropped out of the bidding for the richly ornamented sword Saturday when the price reached $140,000.

The sword was consigned for sale by another Lafayette descendant who wished to remain anonymous. The sword never has left the possession of the Revolutionary War hero's family.

'Thank' goodness low gas prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Holiday motorists should find the prices of all grades of gasoline slightly lower than on Labor Day, the American Automobile Association reported today after a spot check of 3,700 retail fuel outlets across the country.

The association said regular gasoline averages 61.5 cents per gallon for the upcoming four-day weekend, down four-tenths of one cent from Labor Day, traditional end of the heavy-travel season. Premium gasoline averages 65.8 cents per gallon, down from 66 cents, and unleaded 63.8 cents, down from 63.9 cents, AAA said.

Diesel fuel is averaging 53.3 cents a gallon, the association said.

The association said its survey indicated that motorists should find adequate supplies of all grades over the long weekend.

Over 70 per cent of the stations surveyed said they planned to be open on the holiday itself, Thursday, Nov. 25; more than half indicated they would pump gas after 6 p.m. that day; all said normal operating hours would be observed on Friday and Saturday, and only 20 per cent said they would be closed on Sunday.

At least 15 per cent of the stations contacted said they would remain open around the clock throughout the four-day weekend.

The highest prices found in the survey were in Mammoth Lakes, Calif., where regular grade fuel was 75.9 cents per gallon, premium 79.9 and unleaded 77.9.

Lowest prices were found in the Houston and Beaumont, Tex., areas, where a gallon of regular sold for 45.9 cents, premium 50.9 cents and unleaded 49.9 cents.

On a regional basis, the highest prices per gallon were found in the Mountain states of Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, where regular was 64.6 cents per gallon, premium 68.5 cents and unleaded 66.6 cents.

The lowest prices regionally were reported in the oil-producing West South Central area — Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas — where regular was 59.9 cents per gallon, premium 63.7 cents and unleaded 61.8 cents.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

By RAYMOND CREWS

Thanksgiving is a traditional American holiday. The Pilgrims, back in 1621, set the day aside for feasting and to give thanks for their excellent harvest which followed a severe winter. In recent years,even with attempted crop curtailment, our harvests recorded new, astounding yields; the largest in the history of mankind.

As we give thanks this year and celebrate our stomach satisfying day, we should think of those who hunger elsewhere. Even the clouds must seem sad when they release rain on a people inhabited soil that does not and can not yield even a semblance of meager food in famine stricken lands.

The Pilgrims not only gave thanks for their harvest, they shared their feast with Indians in the area. In our era, a beneficent and kind Creator has made it possible for us to celebrate Thanksgiving every day of the year. Since this is so, shouldn't we give [illegible] our blessings every day of the year?...

1. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Russell Long who was killed in a car accident on Nov. 22, 1963.
Should you go first & I remain
To walk the road alone
I'll live in memory's garden, Dear,
with happy day's we've known
In spring I'll wait for roses red,
when fades the lilac blue.
In early Fall, when brown leaves fall
I'll catch a glimpse of you.

Should you go first & I remain
For battles to be fought,
Each thing you've touched along the way
will be a hallowed spot
I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile,
Though blindly I may grope
The memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope

Should you go first and I remain
To finish with the scroll,
No lengthing shadows shall creep in
To make life seem droll
We've known so much happiness
We've had our cup of joy.
And memory is one gift of God
That death can not destroy.

Should you go first and I remain
One thing I'd have you do,
Walk slowly down the path of death
For soon I'll follow you
I'll want to know each step you take
That I may walk the same
For some day down that lonely road
You'll hear me call your name.
Sadly missed by wife
Delours, Evelyn, Jim & Linda.

Taste Barrier Broken.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough ends struggle to bring taste to low tar smoking.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has created a taste barrier for low tar smoking.

Now that barrier has been broken. Broken for good by a remarkable new cigarette called MERIT.

MERIT is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

The result of a radical new discovery so successful at boosting flavor, MERIT actually delivers the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

Yet MERIT has only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette.

Monday's News Roundup

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Debris from a Chinese nuclear explosion, leaving a windblown, invisible trail of radioactive material across the United States, is now winding across the Atlantic Ocean on its way around the earth. The leading edge of the immense cloud of radioactive debris completed a journey across the United States on Sunday, but government experts insisted there was no danger, even in areas where rain washed the material to the earth.

NATIONAL

NEW YORK (AP) — Hospital officials say they expect some deaths among the 55 workers injured when an explosion ripped through four floors of the American Chicle gum factory, spewing steel, concrete and molten gum into the street. One fireman on the scene said "It was a miracle" that none of the 150 people working the all-night shift was killed immediately by the blast early Sunday. Witnesses said the force of the explosion hurled some victims to the street. About 25 persons were burned severely.

Actress marries parts maker

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actress Marisa Schiaparelli Berenson, 28, married aircraft parts maker James Randall, 33, then left immediately for an unknown honeymoon location.

"Nobody's going to know where they will go on their honeymoon," a spokesman said after the ceremony Sunday. "Marisa doesn't even know. Jim has it all planned." He said they will be gone up to 10 days.

About 500 to 600 guests at Randall's home saw Miss Berenson married in a white dress created by designer Valentino.

The granddaughter of designer Elsa Schiaparelli and daughter of diplomat Robert Berenson has appeared in "Death in Venice," "Cabaret," "Casanova and Company" and "Barry Lyndon."

Tina arrested for weapon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pop Singer Tina Turner must appear Dec. 8 in Beverly Hills Municipal Court to answer a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Miss Turner, who performs with her husband Ike, was arrested Saturday after an officer who stopped her for a traffic violation spotted a .38-caliber revolver in her purse, sheriff's deputies said.

She was released after being booked.

Widow files suit against NBC

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — The second wife of Dr. Sam Sheppard has filed a $10 million lawsuit against the NBC television network for its dramatization of Sheppard's murder trials.

A similar suit was filed last week by Sheppard's sons.

Ariane Sheppard, who married Sheppard in 1964 when he was in prison for killing his first wife, charges that the television film "Guilty or Innocent: The Sam Sheppard Case" referred to her relationship with Sheppard as "one of fornication and convenience."

The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., woman claims the film suggested she was responsible for the divorce in 1969 and says it invaded her privacy, defamed her and intentionally inflicted emotional distress.

Bid of a sword

NEW YORK (AP) — Count Rene of Chambrun, a direct descendant of the Marquis de Lafayette, outbid the Smithsonian Institution to wi8 possession of a sword presented to Lafayette in 1779 by the American Continental Congress.

The count, a Paris attorney, paid $145,000 for the sword. The Smithsonian dropped out of the bidding for the richly ornamented sword Saturday when the price reached $140,000.

The sword was consigned for sale by another Lafayette descendant who wished to remain anonymous. The sword never has left the possession of the Revolutionary War hero's family.

'Thank' goodness low gas prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Holiday motorists should find the prices of all grades of gasoline slightly lower than on Labor Day, the American Automobile Association reported today after a spot check of 3,700 retail fuel outlets across the country.

The association said regular gasoline averages 61.5 cents per gallon for the upcoming four-day weekend, down four-tenths of one cent from Labor Day, traditional end of the heavy-travel season. Premium gasoline averages 65.8 cents per gallon, down from 66 cents, and unleaded 63.8 cents, down from 63.9 cents, AAA said.

Diesel fuel is averaging 53.3 cents a gallon, the association said.

The association said its survey indicated that motorists should find adequate supplies of all grades over the long weekend.

Over 70 per cent of the stations surveyed said they planned to be open on the holiday itself, Thursday, Nov. 25; more than half indicated they would pump gas after 6 p.m. that day; all said normal operating hours would be observed on Friday and Saturday, and only 20 per cent said they would be closed on Sunday.

At least 15 per cent of the stations contacted said they would remain open around the clock throughout the four-day weekend.

The highest prices found in the survey were in Mammoth Lakes, Calif., where regular grade fuel was 75.9 cents per gallon, premium 79.9 and unleaded 77.9.

Lowest prices were found in the Houston and Beaumont, Tex., areas, where a gallon of regular sold for 45.9 cents, premium 50.9 cents and unleaded 49.9 cents.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

By RAYMOND CREWS

Thanksgiving is a traditional American holiday. The Pilgrims, back in 1621, set the day aside for feasting and to give thanks for their excellent harvest which followed a severe winter. In recent years,even with attempted crop curtailment, our harvests recorded new, astounding yields; the largest in the history of mankind.

As we give thanks this year and celebrate our stomach satisfying day, we should think of those who hunger elsewhere. Even the clouds must seem sad when they release rain on a people inhabited soil that does not and can not yield even a semblance of meager food in famine stricken lands.

The Pilgrims not only gave thanks for their harvest, they shared their feast with Indians in the area. In our era, a beneficent and kind Creator has made it possible for us to celebrate Thanksgiving every day of the year. Since this is so, shouldn't we give [illegible] our blessings every day of the year?...

Taste Barrier Broken.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough ends struggle to bring taste to low tar smoking.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has created a taste barrier for low tar smoking.

Now that barrier has been broken. Broken for good by a remarkable new cigarette called MERIT.

MERIT is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

The result of a radical new discovery so successful at boosting flavor, MERIT actually delivers the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

Yet MERIT has only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette.
